WELLMAN SAILING ACROSS THE OCEAN

Daring American Aeronaut and Crew Start Airship Voyage to Europe.

SHIP MAKING PROGRESS AT SEA

Word Received by Wireless Station at Atlantic City—Hopes to Follow in Lane of Atlantic Liners.

Atlantic, N. J., Oct. 15.—Sailing in a thick fog that hung low over the Atlantic ocean early today, Walter Wellman with a crew of five men is tonight believed to be on an epoch making voyage to Europe in the huge cigar shaped airship America.

Starting from the beach near the inlet a few minutes after 8 o'clock this morning the big air craft was soon out of sight of the cheering crowd.

Since then no one, with the exception of ships at sea, has seen the strange craft and the only word from her came by means of the wireless telegraph.

Numerous messages were received during the day and the latest indicated that Wellman is tonight easily sailing northeastward off the Long Island shore. The ship, according to this last word from her adventurous crew has set a northeasterly course with the intention of getting into the northern lane of trans-Atlantic liners.

The men who are making aeronautic history in the first over-ocean flight in an airship are Walter Wellman, commander; Melvin Vaniman, chief engineer and next in command; F. Murray Simons, navigator; J. K. Irwin, wireless operator; John Aubert and Albert Louis Loud, assistant engineers.

The start of the America was one of the most dramatic events that has ever occurred in this care-free resort of frequent sensations. Roundly criticised by people who did not believe that he would ever undertake what was thought to be a foolhardy venture, Wellman startled the whole island by bringing the America out of the hanger and without any ceremony going into the air.

It was about 4 A. M. today that the final decision to go up was made by Chief Engineer Vaniman. All night he watched the weather and as the dawn approached he decided that now was the time. Rousing the other members of the crew who slept in the hanger, Vaniman called Wellman and notified him that the time to start had arrived.

Fairly jumping into his khaki uniform Wellman summoned the members of his family and soon was on the way to the inlet in an automobile. Vaniman was also busy. Calling up Mayor Stoy and the chiefs of the fire and police departments, Vaniman got 200 men to help get the great airship out of the hanger. The great gas bag was warped out of the shed, the greatest care being taken not to rise the heavy silken bag. Finally it was out and Simons in a boatswain's chair ascended to the top of the huge bag and released the remaining lashings and then came down.

With everything ready for the word "let go", the crew climbed up and into the car hanging from the balloon. The finally "good byes" were said to wives, other relatives and friends, and the last word to the men on the ground was given. The great craft gave a lurch, all the ropes and cables became taut and the ship rose slowly at first and then more rapidly as it ascended and encountered the gentle breeze from the West.

On the board walk and beach were assembled a crowd estimated at about 1,000. The crowd stood in awe as the America majestically continued to rise and sail into the thick fog. Then cheer after cheer followed when they saw the craft began to disappear in the mist. Within five minutes the ship was out of sight. Those of the crowd who remembered that the America carried a wireless telegraph outfit rushed from the board walk to the million dollar pier for news of the balloon.

Robert Miller, the wireless operator stationed there, was early on hand in expectation of a flight and got ready to "pick up" the ship. Miller kept "calling" operator Irwin constantly and it was not until 11:05 A. M. that there was any response. Then came this message, the first ever sent from an airship at sea: "Headed northeast. All well on board. Machinery working fine. Good-bye. J. Irwin."

After this messages came frequently and all reported good progress. Among the anxious people that crowded into the little wireless station were Mrs. Wellman and her two daughters and Mrs. Vaniman. All were cool despite the knowledge of the dangers their husbands and father were to face in this strange voyage and they expressed the utmost confidence in the success of the expedition. There was some anxiety for a time when it was learned that the tropical storm which is tearing up things off the southeast corner of the United States was coming north. A wireless message notified Wellman of its approach and after one from him for further information, another message was sent to the ship that the America probably would be out of the storm's reach even if it should curve itself up the coast and out to sea.

The last message received from Wellman late this afternoon was to the effect that the course had been laid for the north passage from New Foundland and that speed had been cut to 15 knots an hour, for the purpose of saving the gasoline fuel. Enough gasoline aboard carried to keep the America's engines going for at least 50 days under the low speed pressure.

The airship is equipped with provisions for 30 days and a 27-foot lifeboat is part of the equipment of the expedition. If the ship gets into difficulty in the way of motor trouble, she is carrying two 80 horse power engines and a donkey engine, the wireless will be depended upon to summon ships. Should the whole structure collapse the crew will take to the life boat and be in the track of steamers, expect to be picked up without drifting long on the ocean.

DAVIDSON DEFEATS 'VARSITY ELEVEN

Presbyterians Won Notable Victory From Carolina at Charlotte.

GRIDIRON RESULTS YESTERDAY

Wake Forest Loses to Norfolk Artillery Blues—Princeton Wins From LaFayette—Many Southern Games.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 15.—Davidson College treated its most sanguine supporters to a genuine surprise this afternoon on the local gridiron by defeating the husky eleven of the University of North Carolina 6 to 0.

The score was made in the last quarter on a series of tragic fumbles by the 'Varsity team. The victory was notable for the reason that it is the first time the Presbyterians ever scored on Carolina and for the further fact that the victors were handicapped by an opposing weight of not less than 40 pounds to the man. Carolina played a lifeless game and the team work was very poor, Davidson outplaying them at every point of the game and putting up a brilliant article. The betting this morning was 3 to 1 on the University of North Carolina.

Wake Forest Defeated.

Norfolk, Oct. 15.—Wake Forest suffered defeat at the hands of Norfolk Light Artillery Blues today. The score was 31 to 0. Wake Forest was never in the contest and only made the required distance three times during the game. Barry, right end for the Artillery, made three touchdowns. Utley and Betts showed form for Wake Forest.

Princeton Licks LaFayette.

Easton, Pa., Oct. 15.—The Princeton football eleven today defeated LaFayette on March field in one of the fiercest battles ever seen on the Easton gridiron. Only through a field goal were the Tigers able to score on the game ended 3 to 0. Field goal, Pendleton, Princeton. Referee, Crewell, Swarthmore; umpire Taussig, Cornell; head linesman, Costello, Cornell; field judge, McCarthy, Germantown.

Vanderbilt the Winner.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 15.—Tennessee furnished a stiffer opposition than Vanderbilt looked for today and while the Commodores scored 18 points, winning by this margin, it was only by the most desperate sort of work. Tennessee not only batted so fiercely that she stopped Vanderbilt at times, but gained ground and repeatedly threatened the Commodores' goal. The game was marred by several personal encounters.

Brown Loses to Penn.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 15.—Gathering strength as the game progressed, University of Pennsylvania piled up on the Brown eleven today a score of 20 to 0, the result of three touchdowns from two of which goals were kicked and a goal from the field. The score: Pennsylvania 20; Brown 0.

Virginia Defeats St. Johns.

Charlotesville, Va., Oct. 15.—University of Virginia defeated St. Johns of Annapolis today by the score of 29 to 0, nearly doubling the score made by the Navy against St. Johns three weeks ago. Virginia in a whirlwind attack in the first half scored three touchdowns and in the final quarter struck her pace again, making two touchdowns in ten minutes. End runs by Honaker and Tobb and line plunging of Driver and Goodhue, were the features.

B. & O. TRAIN WRECKED.

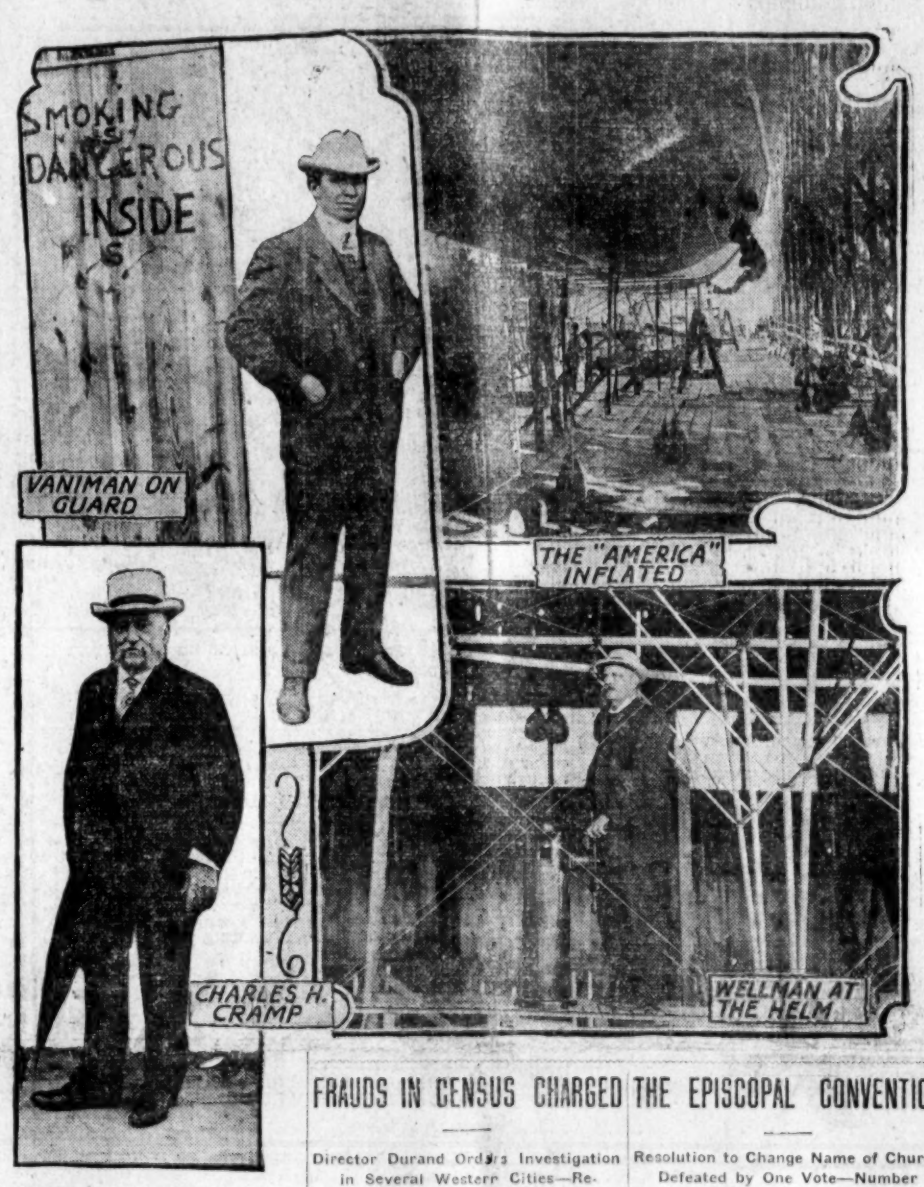

Eight Injured When Two Coaches Rolled Down Steep Embankment.

Winchester, Va., October 15.—Eight people were seriously injured, several of them probably fatally, and many passengers sustained minor injuries as the result of Southbound passenger train No. 1, on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, jumping down a 40 foot embankment, near Opquon Bridge, eight miles north of Winchester tonight.

The train was running 40 miles an hour. Two coaches filled with passengers from Baltimore and Washington went down the embankment. The coaches rolled over and over and the passengers, many of whom were women, were thrown about in great confusion. Spreading rails are said to have caused the wreck.

A relief train bearing the injured reached Winchester at 9 o'clock tonight.

CLARION CALL TO YOUNG MEN

Grand Old Man of the East Warns Against Seductive Appeals of the Enemy Abide the Ship Says Jarvis.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greenville, N. C., Oct. 15.—Ex-Governor Thos. J. Jarvis, the grand old man, today issued this clarion call to the young men of North Carolina.

"I have always taken a deep interest in the young men, and I have done what I could to promote their welfare. I have in public and private life tried to make it easy for the young men to become educated, fitted and trained for the duties of life, and have in public addresses and private admonition urged them to make the most of their opportunities.

"I have associated much with the people and to this fact I attribute much of the continued active, hopeful, happy life I lead.

"Because of these things I do not feel that I am violating the rules of propriety in these words of advice and encouragement to the young men of my State.

"I cannot and do not advise you to become politicians and seekers after office, but I do insist that you owe a duty to your State and to society that you can only discharge by an active participating in public affairs.

"But how shall you discharge these public duties? In the first place you should set a high standard of public morality and public service and insist that these who seek the favors of the public shall measure up to them, set high ideals and strive to live up to them yourselves, and teach your fellows by respect and example to do likewise. In public matters seek only the public good and use only methods that are honest and just. Avoid the man who would prostitute the public service to his private gain. Shun as you would a deadly pestilence the party that would debauch the young manhood of the State for party success or that even directly or indirectly advocates measures which tend to produce such results. Having fixed upon high ideals in public life, stand by them and defend them.

"But ours is a government by party. Whether we would have it so or not the fact is that party policies and party practice very largely determine the policy and practice of the government. If you propose to take an active part in public affairs in our State it is necessary for you to ally yourself which one or the other of the two political parties which seek con-

FRAUDS IN CENSUS CHARGED

Director Durand Orders Investigation in Several Western Cities—Returns from Tacoma Padded. False Statements.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Staggered by the enormous growth shown by the returns of the new census for a number of Western cities, Director Durand, of the Census Bureau, ordered an investigation, the result of which appeared in the announcement tonight that gross frauds had been perpetrated.

Mr. Durand gave out also a letter from President Taft, directing that persons implicated in the alleged frauds should be prosecuted.

Cities specifically mentioned as being affected by the frauds are Tacoma, Seattle and Aberdeen, Wash.; Portland, Ore.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Boise, Idaho, and Fort Smith, Ark., but it is stated that there are many others.

The result of a second enumeration for Tacoma, Wash., was announced tonight. The city shows a population of 82,972, an increase of 45,258, or 120 per cent., over the population of 1900.

The first figures turned in for Tacoma were 116,268. In other words, the actual population was padded to the extent of 33,296, which would have meant a further addition of 40 per cent. These additions were made in 34 out of 73 enumeration districts in Tacoma. In some of these districts, the number responded proved to be several times greater than the actual population. In ten districts the first enumeration showed 29,753 names, whereas the correct number was found to be 11,646.

Director Durand's statement consists mainly of a letter from himself addressed to Secretary Nagel, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, dated October 8th, in which the whole case is presented. The President's letter three days later addressed to Secretary Nagel, read: "I have read Director Durand's letter and agree with him that it ought to be published. The cases of all those who appear to have violated the law should be investigated by the grand jury and if sufficient evidence is found to justify it, they should be indicted and prosecuted at once. Nothing will so conduce to securing the proper census as the prosecution of those who attempt a fraud upon the law. I am led to believe that the present census has been much freer from attempted frauds than any previous census, but the instances cited by Mr. Durand are sufficient to require the utmost vigilance to bring those who have violated the law to justice and proper punishment."

Director Durand's letter sets forth that attempted "padding" was brought about mainly through the use of slips printed by private individuals and containing the census questions. These were distributed very generally on street corners and elsewhere, and were filled out by thousands of people who either had already been enumerated or who were not permanent residents of the city and not entitled to enumeration there. It is possible that in some cases the names were wholly fictitious. These slips were turned over by the private individuals, who collected them through Special Agent Stacey M. Corwin, to 34 of the enumerators, and they under the instructions of Corwin, added the names to the enumeration by assigning them as "boarders" or "lodgers" to various houses in their districts.

In other words, the director states, the enumerators deliberately made false statement that these persons were resident at this or that particular street number, some of which were vacant lots, although the enumerators knew nothing whatever with regard to the names so fraudulently added.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION

Resolution to Change Name of Church Defeated by One Vote—Number of Important Matters Are Considered.

Cincinnati, Oct. 15.—By a majority of one vote out of 63 dioceses voting, the laymen's division of the House of Deputies today defeated the resolution to change the name of the Protestant Episcopal church by dropping the word "Protestant" and adding the words "of the Holy Catholic Church."

The clerical division of the House of Deputies had passed the measure which is the most important that has come up before the triennial convention in session here. The House of Bishops did not take up the matter today.

The House of Bishops today adopted a proposed amendment to the missionary canon regarding the reorganization of the board of missions. Heretofore the board has been chiefly directed by its secretary, Rev. Dr. Lloyd, of Virginia. Dr. Lloyd recently resigned to accept the office of bishop coadjutor of Virginia. The board has consisted of 45 members elected by the election. The new amendment proposes that the board consist of 48 members, divided as follows:

Sixteen bishops, 16 clergymen and 16 laymen, half of each of these bodies are to be elected by the convention and the other half selected by the eight missionary councils.

Heretofore the presiding officer was the president ex-officio of the convention. The new management proposes to make the office of president of the board of missions an elective one and he will have the appointing of as many secretaries as it will require to conduct the business of the board.

The House of Bishops also adopted the new missionary hymnal that was adopted several days ago by the House of Deputies.

The House of Deputies received a general report of the church which showed that the missionary work in the church had surpassed any other work. The social work had progressed nicely, but the application for holy orders was falling off.

STANLEY KETCHEL A MURDER VICTIM

World Champion Pugilist Shot to Death by a Ranch Hand in Missouri.

SLAYER IS HUNTED BY POSSE

Pugilist Was Visitor on Ranch of Friend—Words With Woman Lead-Up to Tragedy—Died at Springfield.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 15.—Stanley Ketchel, champion middle-weight pugilist of the world, died here tonight at 7:05 o'clock as a result of being shot early today by Walter A. Hurtz.

The shooting took place on the ranch of R. P. Dickerson, a friend of Ketchel, near Conway, 40 miles east of here.

An hour before he died Ketchel regained consciousness. There was thought to be a slight chance for his recovery. His condition soon took a decided change for the worse, however, and the end came quickly.

The pugilist died in the Springfield hospital, where he had been rushed after removing him to Conway on a special train chartered by Mr. Dickerson. Three physicians were on the spot.

An operation was performed on Ketchel at the ranch house in an attempt to locate the bullet. It was not found.

Out in the wooded hills east of here, Hurtz, Ketchel's slayer, heavily armed is fleeing before a pack of bloodhounds and a posse of officers and citizens. Dickerson has placed a price of $5,000 on his capture dead or alive. He will be fired upon at sight.

After shooting Ketchel who was at a breakfast table, Hurtz rushed from the house into the yard. He then faltered a moment, turned and went back into the room where Ketchel lay upon the floor. Reaching into Ketchel's pocket he removed the puglist's 38 calibre revolver and struck him over the head with it. Then he ran from the house.

"Ketchel can't tell me how to run my business" shouted Hurtz, to C. E. Bailey, foreman of the ranch, as he ran across the yard and away from the house.

Hurtz is said to have told Mrs. Goldie Smith that he would meet her here tonight. Officers brought her here and questioned her, hoping to get a trace of Hurtz.

She revealed nothing as to his probable whereabouts. Investigation of Hurtz's belongings have led officers to believe his real name is Walter Dipley, and that he is from Webb City, Mo. He has been at the Dickerson Ranch since last Wednesday and but few knew anything about him.

The trouble between Ketchel and Hurtz is said to have started when the pugilist upraided the ranch hand for beating a horse. This angered Hurtz. The incident took place yesterday.

Mrs. Smith in a statement tonight assigned another cause for the shooting.

"While I was working in the house yesterday," she said, "Ketchel insulted me. I became anbry. He was greatly wrought up over the incident and pleaded with me not to say anything to Hurtz about our conversation. He said he would give me the best team of horses on the farm if I would keep quiet. I made him no promise.

"When Hurtz came home I told him ed me. I became angry. He was very angry. I think that is what caused him to kill Ketchel."

Officers believe Mrs. Smith's story, although they think this was not the only reason for the feeling between the men.

In telling her story Mrs. Smith admitted that Hurtz had promised to meet her tonight. She took several policemen and county officials to the appointed meeting place to await the arrival of the slayer.

Mrs. Smith says she is a daughter of Andrew Bright, a Christian county, Missouri, farmer. She says she met Hurtz about a month ago.

Receipts in Mrs. Smith's purse show that she recently bought some merchandise in Coffeyville, Kan. She conducted a rooming house there.

Ketchel had just come down to the ranch, which adjoins one he recently purhased to spend a few days. Hurtz thought Ketchel was going beyond the province of a visitor to take him to task for his abuse of the animal. Suddenly Hurtz came through the door with a rifle in his hands and said to Ketchel, "Throw up your hands."

Ketchel, not realizing the seriousness of the situation, smiled and started to rise and walk toward Hurtz. Before he turned completely around Hurtz fired. The ball entered Ketchel's body below the right shoulder, coursed upwards and entered the lung. Ketchel fell to the floor. The nearest physician was at Conway. It was 45 minutes before he arrived. It was hours before the special train arrived from here. By that time Ketchel was in a serious condition. It was not long after the shooting until Ketchel lapsed into unconsciousness. Before he lost control of his faculties though, he was able to say that Hurtz had shot him.

For more than a month Ketchel had been a visitor here. Weakened by the fast life he had led since his defeat by Jack Johnson, the fighter came here from New York to recuperate. He was thin and pale when he arrived, but long days in the country and nights of wholesome sleep seemed to put new life in his veins.

He bade fair to "come back" and resume his place at the top of the middle-weight division. It was his greatest desire to take on weight enough to be able to meet Jack Johnson and retrieve his former defeat at the hands of the powerful colored man. And he thought he would be able to do it. His friends were surprised at the sudden

The dead pugilist's real name was Stanilaus Kiecal. He was born in Grand Rapids, Mich., September 14, 1887, and was therefore but little more than 23 years old. His parents are living in Michigan where he had bought property for them. Tomorrow would have been the first anniversary of his fight with Jack Johnson, his last important ring engagement.

DOLLIVER PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY

Iowa Senator Dies of Dilation of Heart Following Short Illness.

OCCURRED AT SUMMER HOME

Senator Was Able to Visit Down Town Residence During Day.—Recently Stumped State of Wisconsin. For Ticket.

Fort Dodge, Wis., Oct. 15.—United States Senator Jonathan Prentess Dolliver died of dilation of the heart, caused by an attack of acute indigestion, at his residence at 7:30 o'clock tonight, while being rubbed by an osteapath physician.

Senator Dolliver's death was unexpected by his relatives and close friends, they thought that he had almost entirely recovered from the attack of indigestion with which he had been suffering for a week.

Senator Dolliver had been up all day and had made a trip from his residence down town. He told several of the men whom he met that he believed he had completely recovered from the indisposition which followed his trip through Wisconsin on a speech-making tour for Senator La-Follette.

While working over Senator Dolliver the osteopath physician was using an instrument to listen to the Senator's heart action. The physician unexpectedly discovered that he was no longer hearing the heart beats. He at first thought that his instrument was faulty. An examination revealed that his patient was dead.

Strong Figure in Politics.

Washington, October 15.—Twice in the limelight as a strong vice presidential possibility and in the front rank throughout his entire career in Congress as an authority on tariff and railroad rate legislation, Senator Dolliver, was one of the strong figures in public life. As a orator both in the halls of Congress and on the lecture platform he never failed to charm his audience with his eloquence, incomparable stories of which he had an inexhaustible fund and with his homely smiles.

Senator Dolliver was born near Kingwood, Preston county, Virginia, (now West Virginia), February 6, 1858. He was graduated in 1875 from the West Virginia University and at 20 was admitted to the bar. He soon moved to Iowa and became prominent as a lawyer at Fort Dodge. He was elected as a Republican in 1888 to the 51st Congress, as a representative of the tenth district. That was his first political office and he was continued in the 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th and 56th Congresses. On August 23, 1900, he was appointed by the then Governor Lesue M. Shaw, to fill a vacancy in the United States Senate, caused by the death of Senator Gear. He was elected in 1902 to succeed himself and re-elected in 1907 for a term which would have experide March 3rd, 1913. would have expired March 3rd, 1913.

Beverly, Mass., Oct. 15.—President Taft was informed of the death of Senator Dolliver late tonight. He was greatly shocked by the news as he had not understood that the Senator's illness was serious. The President regarded Senator Dolliver as one of the most forceful debaters in the Senate.

TRINITY TAKES VICTORY.

Won Deciding Game From Hosiery Mill Team at Durham Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., Oct. 15.—In a slow, but interesting game of baseball played here this evening on the Trinity diamond, Trinity won the third and last game of a series of three games with the fast Durham Hosiery Hill team, the score being 7 to 2. This was the deciding game as each team already had one game to its credit. Rube Howard was on the mound for the stocking makers and big Bob Gantt delivered the goods for the collegians. Howard allowed 12 hits and Gantt nine. Each struck out seven men.

ACQUIRE VALUABLE LOCATION

Messrs. R. R. and B. O. Stone Secure Fine Building on Which Their Store is Located—Progressive Firm.

Announcement was made yesterday of an important real estate deal which has just been consummated and by which Messrs. R. R. and B. O. Stone, of Stone & Co., wholesale grocers and general commission merchants, acquire the valuable property on which the store of the firm is located on east side of Water street, southeast corner of Water street and Quince's alley, being one of the most eligibly located wharf sites along the water front.

The purchase was from Mr. M. J. Corbett and the property represents the large brick building belonging to the estate of the late W. I. Gore, so long prominently identified with the wholesale interests of the city. The property has a frontage of about 47 feet with a depth of approximately 97 feet. While the deed stipulates a consideration of only $1, it is understood that the price paid was in the neighborhood of $10,000. The price was about the same as the purchasers recently paid for their other valuable wharf holdings adjoining.

The purchase of this lot places the firm in splendid shape for handling its large and ever increasing wholesale grocery, commission and shipping business. Mr. B. O. Stone some time ago purchased the wharf and valuable warehouse facilities in front of the store and the purchase yesterday completes the ideal business location on Wilmington's water front. The wharfage is ample for the Stone & Co., line of steamers and sailing boats engaged in the coasting traffic and places the company in a position second to none along the wharf. The business of Messrs. Stone & Co., has steadily grown until it is now one of the largest in the State and is growing. These progressive merchants and business men add considerable to the sum total of Wilmington's greater commerce and now that they are in a home of their own, they are to be congratulated by their friends and the trade generally.

COBB BATTING CHAMPION.

Wins Over Larry LaJoie in the American League Race.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Tyrus Cobb, by official verdict of President Johnson today, was leading batsman of the American League during the last season, with a winning percentage over Larry LaJoie, of Cleveland, of .00086. As the National Leaguers dropped out of the batting contest some time ago, Johnson's announcement means that Cobb is the champion hitter of the country. The automobile, over which trophy there has been so much excitement and not a little criticism, goes to the Detroiter, byt the Cleveland captain, by permission of Mr. Johnson, will be allowed to accept a duplicate.

Third Baseman Corriden, of St. Louis, is vindicated in the statement and Umpire Evans is quoted as saying that not only were LaJoie's eight hits all legitimate, but that he really should have been credited with nine hits.

Mr. Johnson stated that he has requested President Hedges, of the St. Louis club, to probe further the charge that some one connected with his club attempted to influence the official scorer.

Giants Won Snappy Game.

New York, Oct. 15.—Fast base running and heavy hitting when hits meant runs marked a snappy contest between the New York Americans and the New York Nationals today. The Giants won by a score of 6 to 4, after Mathewson had been called to the pitching mound to check a desperate rally which the Highlanders made in the seventh inning. The post season series now stands: Giants 2, Highlanders 1.

Vaughn for the Highlanders, and Drucke, for the Giants, were effective in the early innings, but their deliveries were subsequently solved and they were driven from the box. Knight's short-stopping featured the Highlanders' play, while a one-hand stab of Daniels' wicked drive by Fletcher was the star play of the Giants' defense.

Burns was hit for one run while Rowan, who finished the game, escaped by means of a double play.

FIELD DAY IN WASHINGTON.

Campaign on in Earnest—Pou and Cooley Lock Horns.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Spring Hope, N. C., Oct. 15.—This has been a great day at Spring Hope. All county candidates of both parties made their announcements and in the forenoon there was a joint debate between Congressman Pou and R. A. P. Cooley. With the crowd today Cooley was not regarded in Pou's class. Manning's township has been about evenly divided in the past between the two parties and although it had been heralded far and wide that Cooley and Charles A. Reynolds would speak here today, judging by applause, not more than 25 Republicans were present, while there were fully 300 staunch Democrats here. The crowd was altogether with Pou.

Cooley said that he is neither a Democrat nor Republican and that in the coming election he will support the nominee of either party. Cooley's former friends were sorry for him today for he cut sorry spectacle. He abused the Republicans and criticised Pou. In the afternoon Charles A. Reynolds and Congressman Claude Kitchin were the speakers.

Mr. Reynolds began by saying that he did not propose to meddle in Mr. Pou and Mr. Kitchin's fight but he was present to preach good Republican doctrine and then he proceeded to make a strong high tariff Republican speech and he made a good one. It is not known in whose interest he spoke for every candidate had declared himself either a Democrat or an Independent and Cooley had said he was as good a Democrat as Pou. Kitchin followed Reynolds and never has it been the privilege of Spring Hope people to hear a more effective Democratic vote securing speech. He kept the crowd in a high good humor and riddled to pieces Reynold's speech. It has been a great day for Democracy and they are highly elated.

FAISON AND BUTLER.

Went at It Hammer and Tongs Style at Hampstead Yesterday.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Scott's Hill, N. C., Oct. 15.—The joint discussion between Dr. John M. Faison and Maj. Geo. E. Butler, advertised for Hampstead, began at 1 o'clock this afternoon and lasted three hours. The opening speech was made by Mr. Butler, lasting one hour and was replied to by Dr. Faison at the same length. Following these were rejoinders of twenty minutes each. Mr. Butler is a good speaker and fair logician, but no match for Dr. Faison. In a rough and tumble debate at times it seemed to the bystanders as if the limit of endurance had been reached and that open violence would ensue. Each, however, filled his allotment without hindrance and the debate closed just as the Newbern train arrived which they took. Dr. Faison is far more aggressive than his competitor and his side of the debate was handled in a masterly way, which left a telling effect.

ARMFIELD'S SUCCESSOR.

Appointment Expected Monday—Leinster Will Likely Be Named.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 15.—It is expected the appointment of a successor of the late Joseph F Armfield as Adjutant General of the North Carolina National Guard will be made by Governor Kitchin Monday which will be the first time he has been in the executive office since he attended the funeral. A very strong impression here is that he will appoint Col. R. L. Leinster, who has served so efficiently for some time as assistant Adjutant General. Others being discussed as possible appointees are Major J. J. Bernard, Raleigh, and Col. J. N. Craig, Reidsville, both military men of recognied ability and long experience.

The Advantage of Greensboro

WHEN I am asked why a patient should come to the Keeley Institute at Greensboro, I cannot help pointing out the manifest advantage of its location. For you know North Carolina has long been famous as a winter resort. And the season has gradually lengthened until many of the best hotels keep open all the year round.

Now Greensboro has the same altitude, climate and beautiful country as the other North Carolina health resorts—and is unusually accessible besides. Only a few hours ride from all the large cities of the South, East and Middle West, it is a railway center with more than 50 trains a day, several of them fast through trains.

Then again, everything about the Institute is calculated to make a man forget that he is a patient.

You can indulge in riding, driving, motoring, golfing or any other out-door recreation. And you find the Institute itself as homelike and comfortable as any hotel at which you ever stayed. The whole purpose and aim of our management and attendants is to make a patient's stay as pleasant and comfortable as possible. I have laid the greatest emphasis on this phase of our treatment in all the eighteen years I have been president of the Institute.

Whatever your interest in the Keeley Treatment—whether for your self or someone else—write us. We will treat your letter with strictest confidence.

GREAT RALLY IN COLUMBUS

Thousands Expected at Chadbourn October 25th., Under Auspices Farmer's Union—Noted Speakers and Other Features of Big Day.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chadbourn, N. C., Oct. 15.—As October 25th, the time for the great rally day at Chadbourn of the grand old county of Columbus draws near the preparations become more marked and the pospects for a great day become brighter. A report from one Farmers' Union local states that there will be about 500 present from that neighborhood, including three schools. These people will come laden with an extensive exhibit of farm products. If this is an index to what other sections of the county will do, there will be in Chadbourn on that date the greatest crowd ever gathered at one time in Columbus.

The occasion, under the auspices of the Farmers' Union of the county, is truly representative of that for which the organization stands, viz: Educational advancement in the schools for the children, and educational advancement on the farm for the farmer; this in the way of improved agricultural methods and practices. In view of this two features will be emphasized—although others will be brought to bear during the day. The first in importance will be the educational feature. Supt. of Education, Rev. F. T. Wooten, has given all of the school teachers of the county permission to dismiss their schools on that day and bring their scholars to the rally. From reports there will be a large number of the schools present, some coming in on floats. Dr. J. Y. Joyner will be present and address them, his speech following a short address by Supt. Wooten.

The next great feature emphasized will be the farm exhibit, bringing out as it will the very best of the county's resources.

As an inducement to the farmers to bring out a good exhibit the enterprising merchants of the county and almost as many as were called on in Wilmington have offered prizes ranging in value from two to ten dollars. This list will be made up and sent out the first of the week. Should anyone care to contribute they may write O. M. Powers, or J. E. Clayton, committee, Chadbourn. It would be appreciated.

Besides the above named features, Dr. Ferrell, head of the Hookworm department of the State Board of Health, will be present and deliver an address. It is also planned to have Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, of the State Geological Survey, present and deliver an address on Good Roads. Besides these features there will be a parade of the school children, Farmers' Union members, and as many other organizations as will join. Band music will feature the day. A basket dinner will be served on the grounds and visitors will be carefully looked after.

The programme as outlined will be as follows:

10 to 10:0—Mr. J. A. Brown, on Columbus county's resources.

10:30 to 11—Mr. R. A. Brand of the A. C. L., on Relation of Railroad to the People.

11 to 12—Dr. H. Q. Alexander, State President Farmers' Union.

Dinner.

Parade.

2 to 2:15—Rev. F. T. Wooten, County Supt. of Schools.

2:15 to 3—Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State Supt. of Schools.

3 to 4—Dr. Fererl will address the public on the Hookworm. Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt will speak on Good Roads.

4 o'clock—Awarding of the prizes.

Efforts are being made to have the railroad people run an extra train to Tarbor and towards Wilmington in the evening, it being too long for the school children to wait for the late trains running to these points. If this can be done a geat many more will attend from these sections.

COLORED BAPTISTS.

Kenansville Eastern Baptist Association, Colored, in Session.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Cinquepin, N. C., Oct. 14.—The Kenansville Eastern Baptist Association, colored, met today with the St. Louis First Baptist church at high noon. Dr. Geo. W. Moore, pastor of Central Baptist church, of Wilmington, who for 12 years served as State Missionary, acquainting himself with the needs of the Baptists throughout the length and breadth of the State, is presiding as moderator. Hon. A. R. Middleton, who has given most of his life and time to the service and advancement of this association, is among the first to arrive. Rev. Thos. Parker, of Warsaw, with Rev. D. T. Best, of Clinton, are conspicuous members of the body. Rev. Thos. Parker did the pioneer work and laid the foundation of the Eastern Association from Wilmington to Goldsboro and now distinctively pastors more members than any of his fellow clergy. He is held in high esteem by his brethren and the white citizens of Warsaw.

Dr. C. S. Brown, of Winton, N. C., one among the oldest graduates of Shaw University, president of Watters Institute, and of the Lot Cary's Baptist Missionary Convention and corresponding secretary of the Baptist State Convention, Dr. C. C. Somerville, pastor Ebenezer Baptist church, Portsmouth, Va., ex-State missionary for the Baptists in North Carolina under the co-operative plan, editor of 'Virgil", author of the 'Farmer Boy," etc., Prof. J. A. Fennell, principal of the Burgaw Normal and Industrial School, are representative leaders of the race here in the interest of their work and the uplift of their people. The services of no men are being felt more than these.

Present indications are that this 40th session will be the grandest and the most successful ever held with this body. The great object of the association is the support of the Falson High School for negro youths. Rev. J. Z. Horton, principal-elect of this school, is here on the alert, asking for the united support of the brethren and their churches. Our financial maximum this session is $1,000.

THE WEEK AT LUMBERTON

County Campaign on in Earnest—Attractions at the Theatre—Runaway Accident—Other Items, Personal and General.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 15.—The first week of the Coutny campaign closed today and if reports are true little interest is being taken by the country people. The farmers are busy with their crops and don't need to be told how to vote. They will be on hand election day and do as they are accustomed to doing, roll up a big Democratic majority.

Sheriff McNeill says taxpayers are meeting him as they should. The county commissioners and State treasurer are pushing him and he is obliged to insist on the taxes being paid promptly.

Hon. A. L. Brooks, of Greensboro, was advertised to speak here on Thursday night, but failed to arrive A number of Democrats held a meeting in the Court House and organized a Democratic Club, Mr. Marcus W. Floyd being made president. Another meeting will be held Tuesday night at which time it is hoped to have an able speaker present to address the club and visitors.

Mr. T. L. Johnson went to Rowland this morning where the candidates speak today, for the purpose of preaching some sound Democracy doctrine to the voters of that section.

One of the largest and most highly pleased audiences ever assembled in Lumberton turned out Wednesday evening to see Coburn's Minstrels at the Lumberton Opera House for its first appearance here. As soon as the parade started out at noon, it was seen to be ahead of any similar attraction which has evere been seen here. The band, for the number of men composing it, can't be beaten. The appearance of the company is way above the average, everyone being faultlessly dressed and their deportment unsurpassed. We are glad the time has come when our theatre going people can see just as good shows right here at home as they can see by visiting the cities. The next attraction will be "Music Hall Girl," which appears here on Monday evening, October 24th.

Dr. Dunlop Thompson came down from Morven Thursday morning to visit his mother, who had been unwell for some days. Dr. Thompson was accompanied by his little son, Charles. They returned home last night. Mrs. Thompson is much improved.

Mrs. Marinda Lewis, one of the oldest ladies in this section, died at the home of her nephew, Mr. J. A. Branch, on Third street, Wednesday night, aged 85 years. The remains were carried to the old home of the deceased in Wishart's township Wednesday where the interment took place. Rev. I. P. Hedgepeth conducted the funeral services.

Tom Dixon's new play, "The Sins of the Father," will be seen in Fayetteville Monday night. The show has been well advertised here and many of our people will go over on a special train which leaves here at 6 o'clock Monday evening over the V. & C. S., the fare for the round trip being $1.25. The train wil return immediately after the show. Reserved seats are being sold at the Robesonian office.

Mr. L. G. Sipher, Lumberton's electrician, has just completed an electric light plant for the Kingdale Lumber Co., by which the mill will be lighted, 225 lights being used. When everything is lighted up and working at night, it will present a busy place as seen by electric light.

Mr. C. E. Holton, of Greensboro, has been spending several days in Lumberton, his first visit in 20 years and of course it is a new town to him. He expresses himself as being delighted at the many signs of progress in this section.

During the first nine months of this year the Pope Drug Co. sold a little over 40,000 cigars of one brand alone to say nothing of other brands. The cigar on which they have the big run is just a good 5-cent smoke.

The James Adams' Ten Cent Show under tent has been doing a good business here all the week. The show will leave in the morning for Rockingham where it will be located next week——The many friends of Mr. A. H. Hinds will be glad to know that he is improving and hopes in a short time to be able to be out again—The weather for the past few days days has been fine for kinds of work, especially for making Elm street ready for Winter. We do hope the town authorities will be able to do something to prevent it from getting in its usual disagreeable condition when the Winter rains begin. If the the street is not improved people deing to cross it during bad weather had just as well provide themselves with boats suitable for slipping over mud.

The decorators who have been engaged on the new Baptist church, finished their work today and will leave tomorow morning for Winston.

It is to be greatly regretted that within the next two weeks Mr. C. L. Baker will move with his family to Georgia, locating in Americus or Quitman. During their residence in Lumberton members of the family have made many friends who deeply regret to give them up and sincerely wish them unbounded success in their new home.

Most of the people hereabout will have to cut out the use of eggs until something happens to the price. They are now retailing at 35 cents per dozen. A fortune awaits the man who establishes a poultry business in this section to supply chickens and eggs.

Mr. E. G. Sipher made a business trip to McColl, S. C., returning this morning.——Col. and Mrs. N. A. McLean and children left yesterday morning for Columbia, S. C., where they will spend a few days visiting relatives.——Mr. R. M. Norment, Jr., expects to leave Tuesday for Raleigh where he will spend most of the week

Mrs. Catharine Mitchell, of Fairmont, and Mrs. LeRoy Williams and little son, of Dilon, S. C., mother and sister of Mrs. Jno. T. Singletary, are visiting at the home of the latter on 8th street.

Mr. F. J. Meares, rural carrier on route No. 5, has been unable to attend to his duties for the past three weeks, as the result of the mule he was driving starting off while Mr. Meares was standing on the ground sorting out mail. His hand was caught in such a way as to get badly bruised, which later became so inflamed that he was unable to use it. While there is some improvement it is very slow.

As a result of the high price of cotton which has prevailed during the past few days much of the staple has been brought to market and the farmers are wearing countenances which indicate genuine satisfaction.

Mr. A. Weinstein, one of Lumberton's leading merchants, had his Fall opening yesterday, and told the Star man last night that it was one of the very best opening days he had enjoyed since he had been doing business in the town.

Friends in Lumberton have received invitations reading as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Kernodle request the honor of their presence at the marriage of their daughter
Sarah May
to
Mr. James Dick Proctor
on Wednesday, the twenty-six of October
one thousand nine hundred and ten
at half after 2 o'clock
Christian Church
Graham, North Carolina.

The bride is one of Graham's most accomplished and popular young ladies. Mr. Proctor is a member of the law firm of McIntyre, Lawrence & Proctor, and is one of the most promising young attorneys of this section of the State. Many friends wish them long, happy and prosperous lives.

The registration books for the November election are now open, and every voter should see to it that his name is properly registered, and the young men who have become of age since last election should not overlook the fact that if they wish to vote they must register on or before the 29th.

Mr. Albert Friedman, of New York, has taken a position as book keeper for Mr. A. Weinstein.

The circulation of the daily Star in Lumberton has now gone above the one hundred mark, while on Sunday the daily, weekly and what papers are delivered by carrier combined, will go well on the 300 mark. This is just the Lumberton circulation, not mentioning the large subscription list in al sections of the county. Advertisers should make a note of this. Hundreds of Stars shine all over Robeson.

Mr. C. S. Garrell, for several years in the Front street market, in Wilmington, has opened a fresh meat market on the corner opposite the Court House in Lumberton.

The motion picture show which has been out of business this week, will resume operations Monday night with new pictures. Our people who have seen the pictures in the 10 cent show during the past week, should be in a position to appreciate good service.

An additional operator has been added to the force in the telephone office to meet the requiremtns of the increased service caused by the addition of the long distance service and so many new phones all through the country districts. We understand that the patronage of the long distance service is far greater than the 'phone people ever had any idea it would be. Sunday service will be put on tomorrow or one week from tomorrow.

How to Get Rid of Your Constipation—Trial Free

It is too long a story to tell of all the different methods resorted to for the cure of constipation, ranging, as they do, from massage to stomach pads and from simple salts to powerful cathartics. It is only after a person has tried these makeshift methods that he begins to realize how futile they are.

Waste no further time on them but try a scientific preparation, one that has some basis in reason and fact, and then watch results. The remedy for the intelligent, who are striving for permanent not temporary results, and do not want their intestines nearly strangled by the average violent cathartic, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been on the market for so many years that its stability is assured.

Any druggist will sell you a bottle—it is a liquid remedy and not a pill—at fifty cents and one dollar, but if you hesitate about buying, even in spite of numberless testimonials, then write Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle, which he will gladly send you on receipt of your name and address. Thousands of persons have recovered the perfect use of their stomach and bowel muscles by first being introduced to Syrup Pepsin in the form of a free sample bottle, sent direct to the home. Mr. J. A. Vernon of Oklahoma City and Mrs. S. B. Snyder of Canton, Ill., both used it for stubborn constipation of many years' standing and now publicly report cures. You will never find anything better for constipation, liver trouble, sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and similar complaints.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him, Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

OLD SORES
DUE TO DISEASED BLOOD

Every symptom of an old sore suggests diseased blood. The inflammation, discharge, discolored flesh, and the fact that local applications have no permanent effect toward healing the ulcer, shows that deep down in the system there is a morbid cause for the sore. But more convincing proof that bad blood is the cause for these places is furnished by the fact that even removing the sore or ulcer by surgical operation does not cure; they always return. Nature will heal any sore if the blood is pure and healthy, but until the circulation is cleansed of all impure matter and supplied with nourishing and plasmic qualities the infected condition of flesh is OBLIGED to remain. S. S. S. heals Old Sores in a perfectly natural way. It goes into the blood, removes the impurities and morbid matters, adds nourishing qualities to this vital fluid, and brings about the very conditions that are necessary before any sore can heal. S.S.S. is a perfect blood purifier, acting directly on the circulation through the stomach and digestive members. Its use makes rich, red, healthy blood, which nourishes all flesh tissues instead of infecting them with the virulent matter which keep old sores open. Special book on Old Sores and any medical advice free.

I wish I were able to go from the East to the Tennessee line and tell this message to all the people. I have not long to live. I have children and grandchildren; but I say to you that no stroke of this right hand shall aid in putting the Republican party over these children and grandchildren. I say it because I have tried it in the past and, having tried it in the past and having found nothing but ruin and disgrace, I cannot help but fight it now.—C. B. Watson.

North Carolina cannot afford to have Maine laugh at her. Therefore, North Carolina must come forward with a Democratic victory that will make Maine's "clean sweep" look like a whirlwind alongside a cyclone.

David Graham Phillips, an undesirable citizen who writes for magazines, says "the American woman is a doodlewit." The entire vote of the women will be cast for "David Graham" as "a good for nothing thing who parts his hair in the middle."

Everybody ought to read "Red Buck" Bryant's "Tar Heel Tales." If you want to get the darkey version of "forty acres and a mule," it can be found in Red Buck's book, faithfully recorded in negro dialect by a master hand. Give your book dealer $1.25 so he can secure Bryant's book from the Stone & Barringer Company, Charlotte, N. C.

Roosevelt went down in a submarine boat and "came back". He went up in the air with Archie Hoxsey, who dashed around with his aeroplane skimming along a mile a minute. Again he "came back", and people are calling it "luck." Nevertheless, Teddy shouldn't ever fool with the unloaded gun or cut up any of his shines along the double track.

"Dawdling is the besetting sin of some women," declares a distinguished English divine. Of course, if a woman dawdles she ought to cut it out, but we are satisfied that there are not near as many dawdling women as there are messy, shiftless, trifling and good-for-nothing galoots who are laboring under the misapprehension that they are men.

Republicans have the nerve to claim that they have revised the tariff and are going to revise it some more. Notwithstanding all their alleged revision and promises of some more like it, the protected interests will support the Republican party because they know the tariff will be revised in the interest of the people just as soon as the Democracy gets in control at Washington.

Dr. Faison's "red shirt" is the strongest kind of circumstantial evidence that he was in elbow touch with white folks when they were saving North Carolina from the wreck and ruin brought about by a fusion of whites and blacks who elected a Legislature which adjourned in memory of the late Frederick Douglas, colored, whose widow is a white woman. Oh, you red shirt!

There isn't any use for any Republican party in North Carolina anyhow. The little thing ought to be satisfied with trying to be "respectable" so it will be noticed just a little bit by a North Carolinian who thinks much of his State. The State's business has to be looked after very closely at all times and, if the Republican party were to get into power, too much of its time would be taken up trying to keep from being recognized as the same old party which wasn't respectable up to the time President Taft appointed Judge Connor to the United States District Court bench.

TEACHING HOUSEKEEPING.

Knowing how to keep house and see that the meal on the table is palatable and not conducive to dyspepsia is an accomplishment in any woman, rich or poor. A slovenly kept house and a table that a woman would be ashamed for a stranger to sit down to is more of a reflection on a woman than if she were caught doing her house-keeping and preparing the meals.

The girl who can boast that she can keep house and "set as good a table as a king would like to sit down to," is a girl who has a feather in her cap. The girl who thinks it is something to her credit to boast that she knows nothing about cooking nor housekeeping, is deserving of pity. She is boasting of something that isn't at all complimentary to herself nor creditable to the mother who trained her.

All girls, whether they have to do it or not, should know how to keep house and should be educated in the art of cooking. If she doesn't have to do it herself she ought to know how to have it done so she won't have to apologize for the looks of her house and for the poor cooking displayed on her dining table. If she knows how to do it herself, and is by necessity compelled to do it, she is much more fortunate than she would be if she were to attempt it and make a mess of it. The girl who knows how to keep house and is gifted in the art of making the table dainty, attractive and tempting will be relieved of many an embarrassment if otherwise she had to apologize for what is on the table and be ashamed of letting a caller see the condition of her house.

The practical girl is the girl of today. She will also be the wife of tomorrow, for if she is "on the carpet" the man looking for a companion and a queen for his house will pick her every time. The girl who doesn't know anything about housekeeping or cooking, and thinks it is disgraceful to know how to preside over the home, may be ever so pretty but she would be a disappointment to herself and to the fellow who comes home, finds the house untidy and the table uninviting and displeasing.

In the highest society it is now quite the thing to know how. The most distinguished ladies pride themselves on their domestic art and skill. The Empress of Germany and her children all know the details of the domestic life and they make a boast of it. The wives of the nobility are adepts in the art cuisine and they teach their daughters or have others to teach them all about domestic work. In this country it is beginning to be a popular idea to train both girls and boys in the ways of domestic life. It finishes their practical education and whenever a girl or boy knows how to make life worth living or how to have their servants to meet their expectations in every way in that connection, they are ready to assume the responsible duties of life.

The schools and colleges are putting both boys and girls through a course of domestic training, and in Chicago there is great complaint because even the public schools are not properly equipped to give all the children the benefits of a training that will be practical and useful to them in after life. Mrs. Ella Flag Young, the able superintendent of Chicago's public school system, has revolutionized the schools of that great city of 2,000,000, and she has the public stirred up towards aiding her in sufficiently equipping every school district in a manner that will give the children a training that will make them useful women and men.

Let us hope every school in North Carolina will sooner or later undertake to train the boys and girls so they can know something besides book learning when they get ready to take their places for a life worth while in any pursuit which may fall to their lot.

Charlotte has a right to be proud of the fact that the census gives her a population of 34,014. The beauty of it is, Charlotte has 34,014 folks a working for her.

There isn't any more excuse for a county to have bad roads than there is for a fellow to go barefooted while everybody else has on shoes. The county without good roads is the barefoot fellow that can't keep up with the procession.

A pure gold statue of Roosevelt has been suggested by William Allen White. The principal objection to that is that it will encourage idolatry. Such a statue would be worshipped by predatory individuals to such an extent that some Teddymaniac would swipe it and use it as a household god.

"What is hope?" inquires a contemporary. Why, hope is confident and immutable expectation, the most conspicuous example of which can be found in the hearts of Democrats who can live under defeat some forty or fifty years, with abiding hope that they are bound to get on top before the thing winds up.

Hoke Smith is to be Governor of Georgia, but the honor carries with it the penalty of being 'jumped on" by Tom Watson every time a fly drops in his coffee. Some politicians never could settle down and rest easy while some other politician is getting along fairly well with an office that costs more than it comes to.

DEMOCRATIC HOPES.

Democratic chances in New York and other "doubtful States" look good but we can tell you more about it when the election is over and belated revelations are made concerning the Republican method of financing doubtful voters and anchoring the floating vote.

The Republican plan of postponing publicity of campaign expenditures till after the election seriously handicaps us as a prophet, and so we refrain from giving vent to any prophecy of a reckless nature. We must, therefore, be content to express the belief that the Democrats will cook the goose of the Republicans if they are not able in this campaign to buy up the cook. If President Taft, Col. Roosevelt, Sunny Jim Sherman and other secretive individuals, would only consent to make a breast of the corruption fund "before" instead of "after" the deed, we could handle the situation more intelligently and not have to be so uncertain about the result.

Col. Bryan urged publicity "before" elections, but, of course, such a suggestion from him made the proposition unpopular and thus his deep-laid scheme for preventing Republican success was exposed as one more of his "impossible vagaries." Col. Roosevelt has lately pretended to favor publicity "before" the corruption of voters takes place, but when he realizes the danger to Republican success, involved in this Bryan idea, he is liable to take the back-track and try to prove that somebody has lied on him for the sole purpose of defeating the "New Nationalism" so necessary to keep the great American Union from going to the dogs.

So far as the present outlook for a Democratic victory is concerned, it looks big. It always does. However, when "black hand" politicians meander around with simoleons to supplement their campaign arguments in behalf of "protection and prosperity", it keeps us guessing. The prospects look fine now, but should Democracy's splendid National expectations be realized it would look bad if North Carolina were to be handicapped with Butlerism. Defeat Butler and the balance of the country will take care of itself.

The people who believe the Garden of Eden was a myth should come on to Wilmington and see it for themselves.

The unequal distribution of wealth won't worry you half as much as it does if you will get you a job and earn what is coming to you.

Of course, Virginia girls are welcome to North Carolina, for we all know they are not at all responsible for the way Virginia men carry on.

Another Duke has arrived in New York. It is not stated whether he is seeking a bride with millions of simoleons, or has simply come over to take to the tall timber. Some people can be a fugative from justice when you don't know it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Charlotte, N. C., has nearly doubled its population in ten years. Oh, you new South!—Baltimore Sun.

"Columbus News Notes" appeared n the Wilmington (N. C.) Star of Oct. 12th. That's keeping up to date for you.—Norfolk Landmark.

Now Rhode Island is asking Senator Aldrich where he got it. Where he got it is less interesting and less important than Rhode Island's sudden desire to know.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"Arrogant Boss," "Frazzle Roosevelt," "Toothy Teddy," the collection of labels is growing every day. Why should the peace and prosperity of this country be disturbed by such a roaring lion, anyhow?—Charleston Post.

The Republican State chairman of Oklahoma has invited Colonel Roosevetl to visit that State next month, notwithstanding Governor Haskell's threat to tickle the Colonel's wishbone with a right hand swing next time they meet.—Dallas News.

Congressman Duncan E. McKinlay who did the thing up in Maine for the Republicans—causing the slogan: "Remember the Maine" to have a new significance, will be sent to Wilmington by Republican Chairman Morehead—as a kind of Burchard for Meares, we opine.—Maxton Scottish Chief.

The Wilmington Star is a little skeered because Andrew Carnegie has contributed $50,000 to the Democratic cause in New York, fearing that there are armed men in the wooden horse. However, it is not worth while being panicky until we find out the amount of his contribution or that of his associates to the Republican campaign fund. And that we will not know until after the election in November—if then.—Maxton Scottish Chief.

This is the greatest educational age the world has ever known. Department stores are conducting night classes in various studies, colleges are putting in chairs of journalism and newspapers are making a specialty of teaching the young idea how to cook. The Philadelphia North American has added a culinary editor to its staff, who will not only tell in the paper all about steaks and omelets, but will show inquisitive persons how to cook them if they will kindly come around. And who is there that will say the North American is not doing a magnificent work of benevolence?—Savannah News.

A few years ago when money to the farmer was the scarcest article that was known to his needs, and he had none to put away for a rainy day, it was occasionally a joy to him to go to the bank with a check and draw from the institution of other people's savings. It was one of the longings of some of them to be able to write a check on the local bank for their small obligations, but was denied because he had no money to check against. Tables have turned, however, and it would be surprising to the average citizen to know of the great volume of business now transacted by the farmers through the means of banks. Nearly every farmer who has been able to save, and they are few who have not, when they pay for their paper and little articles sent out by mail to them, send a check with the order. To deposit money in the banks is wise. It not only prevents robbery, but it is a savings institution that beats everything else, unless it be the building and loan association, and it is very gratifying to see this protection being taken by the industrious farmers of this section.—Mooresville (N. C.) Enterprise.

One of the Citizen's subscribers complains of the growing tendency among housekeepers to "pilfer" their neighbors' servants, and wants to know if there is any law to prevent it. We know of no law along that line; there is nothing which our injured friend can look to for redress. Time was when there was a certain code of honor among women which would prevent this poaching on the domestic preserves, but now, in this commercialized age, code and principle have been swept overboard to give place to a free-for-all scramble. The little courtesies which made the forefathers of the South famous the world over have in some quarters been superseded by the game of "beggar-my-neighbor." Nor is there any commandment which says, "thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's servant." True, a State law protects the factory owner, in that no coyote can come along by night and offer his help more money to shift the scenes of their labor. But in the factory world some sort of legislation is needed to preserve satisfactory conditions where codes of honor are not looked for. The founders of this fair land never anticipated a day when your neighbor would throw principle and courtesy to the winds, invade your home and leave you stranded high and dry by stealing your servants. These domestic brigands belong to an age when pirates cut throats and scuttled ships.—Asheville Citizen.

We congratulate Charlotte on the showing made of 34,014 inhabitants, an increase of 88 per cent., from 18,091 in 1900. The actual increase in the territory is not anything like the figures quoted but Charlotte is to be congratulated on succeeding in extending the city's area—on having suburbs willing to come in and participate in the municipal burdens in order to aid in producing a "greater Charlotte." According to current report, Columbia's population will show up between five and six thousand less than Charlotte's, and to those not knowing conditions that showing will be to the disadvantage of the South Carolina capital. The facts are that Columbia's area—for census purposes—is 4 1-4 miles while Charlotte's is 15 square miles, or about three and a half times greater. Charlotte's area would extend from Hyatt Park on the north to a half mile below the Olympia mills—on the Taylor farm—on the south, and to a line three miles east of the river. That would include, eastward, Edgewood, Kendaltown, Waverley and Shandon with all its anexes. Charlotte's territory is a mile and a half from a centre one way, and two miles and a half from a centre another way; Columbia's is one mile from a centre, with a small protuberance at one point. Within territory from Columbia's centre equal to Charlotte's municipal area, there are, besides the city of Columbia, the villages of five cotton mills, three of them large mills, and three distinct suburban towns, with five or six "settlements". There are in that territory not less than 42,000 people who are, in fact, Columbians.—Columbia State.

COLUMBUS NEWS NOTES.

Godwin and Brown Heard by Large Crowd—Other Items.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Oct. 15.—Mr. C. E. Smith, Register of Deeds for Columbus county, arrived last night from Fair Bluff and Cerro Gordo where Congressman Godwin and Hon. J. A. Brown spoke. Mr. Smith says at both places there were large and enthusiastic audiences, but at Fair Bluff it was the greatest gathering held by Democrats since the red shirt days of fusionism. He says Mr. Godwin made a ringing Democratic speech, as did also Mr. Brown, and the hearers were wild with enthusiasm. He predicts that Columbus county will roll up next month a rousing Democratic majority.

News reached Whiteville this morning that there had been a serious cutting affray at Cerro Gordo, and Mr. Manley Toon was called there by telephone. No particulars can be learned.

Gov. Kitchin is billed to speak in Whiteville November 1st, and as he has many strong friends in the county will doubtless be welcomed by a large turn-out. But this county is safely Democratic, but it will do no harm to enthuse and stir up the voters.

The pond of the old Memory mill, on the outskirts of Whiteville, will be cut on Tuesday of next week and a big fishing frolic given. This mill is one of the old land-marks of our town, but the public is glad to know it will be demolished. Mr. Seth L. Smith has bought the property and will tear away the mill and drain and cultivate the land now covered by the pond. The draining of this body of water will bring into cultivation some very fine land up the branch, and be of great value to a number of farmers.

Farmers were in town today from different sections of the county. They report an excellent corn crop, but cotton will not turn out more than half an average yield. Most of them are holding their cotton for an advance in price.

CONCILIATION WORK.

Coal Road's Work for Peace in Anthracite Region.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, Oct. 15.—The Anthracite Conciliation Board, which settles differences of opinion between the Anthracite mine workers and operators, is preparing to issue another report upon its work of arbitration.

One hundred and ninety-four cases have come before the Board since it was created by the Anthracite Strike Commission of 1902. The success of its efforts in the direction of peace is indicated by the fact that 150 of the grievances were presented in the first three years, while only 44 have been presented in the last four yars.

Th Board consists of three representatives of the mine workers and three representatives of the operators. When they can't agree, an umpire is called in; but this has been necessary only in a small proportion of cases. A large number of grievances, after being presented, are withdrawn and settled "out of court," through the influence of the board.

The Anthracite Conciliation Board has been the most conspicuous manifestation of the movement toward arbitrating labor disputes. A large part of its success is attributed to the informality of its procedure, which is designed to eliminate "red tape."

Any mine worker or any operator has the right to appear and state his complaint, after direct efforts at settlement have failed. Often persuasion leads to a compromise, or to a withdrawal of the complaint. If not, then the Board votes upon the question, and the contestants must abide by its decision. Or, if a tie vote of the members sends the case to an umpire, his decree is final.

Recently the strike at the Pennsylnia Coal Company's collieries was ended as a result of the Conciliation Board's efforts. It was agreed to let two members of the Conciliation Board, one operator and one mine worker, acting as a special committee, pass upon the matters in dispute.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.

Ten-Year-Old Son Shot to Death at Mt. Gilead.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Oct. 15.—Last Tuesday the home of Mr. J. Milton Lisk, of Mt. Gilead, was the scene of a sad accident which resulted in the death of a bright little daughter of the home. As the 10-year-old son was placing a shot gun in the closet, he struck the hammer against the door and in some way fired the gun, the load striking his 8-year-old sister in the left eye. Death was instantaneous and the head of the little girl was almost blown off.

Mrs. Lisk was preparing to do some house cleaning and the little son, Floyd, was told to place a shotgun in the closet. His little sister, Robbie, was sitting on the floor, putting on her shoes and preparing to go to school. It is not known just how the gun was fired and the screams of the children attracted the mother, who came and discovered the awful spectacle. The little boy was so excited that he could not explain how it all happened.

Mr. Lisk is one of the best citizens of the town and his family is popular with all who know them. The tenderest sympathy is felt for them in the awful calamity that has come into their home.

IMPORTANT PROPERTY DEALS

J. W. Murchison & Co., Purchase Rock Springs Hotel Property—Will Erect Handsome Building. Other Transfers.

There is considerable activity just now in the real estate market in Wilmington and several deeds were filed for record yesterday transferring important holdings, the most valuable of these being what is known as the Rock Springs Hotel, on Chesnut street, directly in the rear of the Southern National Bank, purchased from the Hilton Lumber Co., by J. W. Murchison & Co., and the purchase by Messrs. B. O. and R. R. Stone from Mr. M. J. Corbett of the property on Water street in which the firm of Stone & Company now does business.

The property purchased by J. W. Murchison & Co., is on southeast corner of Water and Chesnut streets and has a frontage on Water street of 66 feet and extends from the Southern National Bank building to the river front. The amount named in the deed of transfer is $1 and other considerations, but it is understood that it required in the neighborhood of $25,000 to make the deal—the same amount that was paid for the property 50 years ago. It is understood that the purchasers will begin in the Spring the erection of a handsome four-story brick building on the property to be used by their increasing wholesale and retail hardware business. Plans for the building are now being prepared and work will begin on the structure early in the Spring, it was stated yesterday. The company recently sold to Mr. James Howard its valuable property on North Front street, upon which the Bijou theatre is located, and it was understood at that time negotiations were in progress for the purchase by the firm of the Rock Springs Hotel property for the erection of a large building to be used as the home of the company's business.

For $100 and other considerations Mr. Thomas H. Wright purchases from John H. Brown and wife, two lots, one on the north side of Brunswick, 41 1-4 feet west of Sixth street, 41 1-4x66 feet in size; the other on west side of Sixth, 56 feet north of Brunswick, 10x 41 1-4 feet in size.

H. G. Fennell and wife to J. Utley King, for $700, lots 6 and 7 in block 26, Carolina Place, on north side of Wolcott avenue, 165 feet west of 20th street, the two lots, taken together, being 66x113 feet in size.

The American Suburban Corporation to L. T. Landen, for $350, lot 25 in block 22, the same being on south side of Wolcott avenue, 396 feet west of 20th street.

LINE TO BATTLEGROUND.

Atlantic Coast Line Asked for Accommodation at Currie, N. C.

A convenience long needed for the thousands of excursionists who visit each year the famous Revolutionary battlefield at Moore's Creek, it is learned, is now being considered by the Atlantic Coast Line, the building of a spur track from Currie, N. C., about half a mile to the historic spot in order that the people may have an opportunity of getting to and from the grounds without the walk that is now required. Crowds which visit this battlefield are becoming so large each year that it is impossible to handle them by private conveyance and it is hoped that the railroad people will see their way clear to provide the needed convenience. President James F. Moore, of the Moore's Creek Monumental Association, was in the city yesterday and has an appointment to meet an engineer of the railroad company at Currie on Wednesday of this week. The cost of the extension would be comparatively small as the land is level and there would be practically no grading.

RIVER STEAMER SUNK.

Hazel Sprang a Leak and Sank at Worth Company's Dock.

The river steamer Hazel, owned by the Newton, Williams Lumber Company, sprung a leak Friday night and sank at the wharf of the Worth Company, near the Clyde Line dock at the foot of Grace street.

The Hazel was recently changed from a passenger to a towing steamer by license secured through the Custom House and has since been engaged in towing lighters of lumber on the Cape Fear and Northeast rivers.

The Hazel is a boat of about 60 tons and is valued at between $3,000 and $4,000. The steamer was tied-up at the wharf when she sank, and had no cargo aboard. It is understood that a wrecking company will raise the steamer.

BISHOP ALEX. WALTERS HERE

Colored Educator, Standing Next to Booker T. Washington, Will Preach at St. Luke's Church Today—Bryan Advocate.

The Star is asked to give space to the following announcement relative to the presence in this city of Bishop Alexander Walters, a well known colored man, who will preach at both of the services at St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church today, the article being prepared by the pastor of the church, Rev. Geo. L. White:

"Bishop Alexander Walters, of New York City, the presiding Bishop of the Third Episcopal Diocese of the A. M. E. Zion church, is in the city and will preach at each of the services today. He has recently arrived from Africa and different points of interest in Europe. His district is composed of the following conferences, viz: New England Conference, the North Carolina Annual Conference, African work, the West Indies, and the Dominion Republic. He is quite an interesting character, standing next to Booker T. Washington in public affairs as pertains to his race. He is styled the leader of his race from a religious and political viewpoint. It was during the last campaign that he stumped the State of Kentucky on a special train pleading with negroes to divide their votes, and cast their suffrage to the man and the party that would give the greatest consideration and the most planks in their political platform. He was a firm advocate in the policies of the Hon. William J. Bryan, believing they were the best for his people and would conserve the best interests of his race. His prophecies of the ultimate outcome of the present policies and administration as it affects the country and his race has been fulfilled to the letter; which easily makes him the wise and safe leader of his people.

"His advice to the negroes of the country at Columbia, S. C., the past week was to 'build up along all lines, morally, industrially and otherwise, and seek the peace of the people of the place where they dwelled and live on neighborly terms with their neighbors.' He stated that in proportion as we improved along these lines the race would find friends among their white neighbors and would receive the kind of protection as such conduct would deserve.

"He will lecture Monday night at St. Luke A. M. E. Zion church, at the corner of Seventh and Church streets. His subject, 'The Negro's Relation to Africa.' The citizens of Wilmington of both races are invited to hear the lecture. Special reservation will be made for the white people who have been invited and may attend. The exercise begins at 8:15 o'clock P. M.

"LIFE BEYOND THE GRAVE."

Interesting Free Lecture at Bijou Theatre This Afternoon.

In the advertising columns today it is announced that Mr. O. L. Sullivan, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a distinguished speaker and member of the International Bible Students' Association, will lecture at the Bijou theatre, on North Front street, this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, his subject being "Life Beyond the Grave." This subject is of vital interest to everyone, is said to be the key to proper Bible study, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to hear it. Speaking of this discourse, as given in Washington, D. C., the Times, of that city, says: "Mr. Sullivan's discourse was remarkable for the array of scriptural evidence brought forth." Seats are free and no collection will be taken.

Will be Married This Afternoon.

Friends will be interested to learn that Mr. Wm. B. Klander, son of Mr. J. D. H. Klander, and Miss Maggie Letha Skipper, daughter of Mrs. Alice Skipper, will be united in marriage at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The ceremony will take place at the parsonage of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. W. A. Snyder officiating. Both have many friends in the city who extend their best wishes in advance. The couple will reside in this city.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world's famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says: "I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several well known kidney medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe bachaches and pains in my kidneys and suppression and a cloudy voiding. On rising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100-per cent. better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Robert Bellamy.

DEMOCRATS TO HAVE RALLY

United States Senator Overman and Attorney General Bickett to Speak Here Wednesday Night—Big Crowd Expected.

What will probably be the biggest Democratic rally in this section in some years takes place Wednesday night of this week, when United States Senator Lee S. Overman, of Salisbury, and Attorney General T. W. Bickett will address the voters at an open air meeting at corner of Third and Market streets, plans for which are now being rapidly matured by Marsden Bellamy, Esq., chairman of the county Democratic Executive Committee.

Both Senator Overman and Attorney General Bickett are well known in Wilmington, where they have been heard with genuine pleasure on former occasions, and they will doubtless have a tremendous audience Wednesday night, when they will discuss the paramount issues of the present campaign. Senator Overman will be introduced to the assemblage by George Rountree, Esq., a leading member of the Wilmington bar, and Hon. John D. Bellamy, another leading member of the bar, will present Attorney General Bickett. Chairman Bellamy was very fortunate in his selection of speakers to introduce the distinguished visiting campaigners, who will be given a rousing welcome to this city.

Chairman Bellamy has let the contract for the erection of a platform at corner of Third and Market streets from which the speakers will address the throng of voters who will doubtless be in attendance. The speakers' stand will seat some 30 or 40 persons and Chairman Bellamy is now preparing a list of prominent local Democrats who will be invited to occupy a place on the platform. The list will be made public early in the week. It is likely that the platform will be left intact and will be used later on in the campaign by other prominent speakers.

Messrs. Overman and Bickett are two of the most prominent Democratic speakers in the State and the voters of Wilmington and surrounding section should consider themselves fortunate in being privileged to hear them Wednesday night. The voters of the city will probably turn out en masse and quite a large number are expected from the surrounding section.

Will Keep Club Open.

At a meeting of the Governing Board of the Carolina Yacht Club held last night to canvass the vote of the club as called by a resolution adopted at a meeting of the entire club held September 28th, 1910, the following result was found: 159 for keeping the club open; 68 against, with 11 votes not signed, of which four were for and seven against. As it required 155 votes to obtain a majority, the board declared the resolution adopted. Any other votes received by the purser postmarked not later than October 15th, 1910, will be added to the above and declared as the official count.

High School Day Friday.

Manager L. J. Stein, of the Athletic Association of the High School, has made arrangements with the management of Joyland by which Friday, October 21st, will be High School Day at the retreat. The association is to receive a certain per cent. of the receipts on Friday. Tickets are now on sale by several of the High School boys. The outlook for football at the High School this season is exceedingly bright. The team goes to Fayetteville on October 26th for a game with the Donaldson Military Academy.

At First Baptist Church.

At the First Baptist Church this morning the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, will use as the text of his sermon, "Can ye discern the signs of the times?" Tonight his text will be "What is your name?" At the evening service Mrs. Chas. Butler, who is assisting her husband in leading the song service at the Fifth Street M. E. Church revival, will sing, members of the congregation will be pleased to learn.

Sisters Marry Cousins.

Licenses were issued from the office of the Register of Deeds yesterday for the marriage of Mr. Isaac E. Reynolds, of this city, and Miss Nonnie A. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Williams, of Leland, and Mr. Jessie Lee Reynolds, of this city, and Miss Minnie C. Williams, of Leland. The young ladies are sisters, while the grooms-to-be are cousins. The couples will be married today.

Begins Series of Lectures Today.

Rev. Mrs. M. McKinstry, of Vermont, a noted lecturer, will this morning begin a series of lectures at the Advent Christian church, Fourth and Church streets. The lectures will be illustrated and will be on the World's Empires. Mrs. McKinstry arrived some days ago and is a guest at the home of Mr. R. P. McClammy.

—The schooner Edward R. Baird, Jr., Capt. Bennett, arrived yesterday from Norfolk, Va., with cargo of coal for the Springer Coal Company to be discharged at the Atlantic Fisheries.

HOW TO GET FAT.

Use Samose, Says Druggist J. Hicks Bunting Drug Company and Put on Good Flesh.

The almost universal interest in physical culture is the best evidence that can be offered as to the need of making thin people fat, increasing strength and restoring health.

Athletics, when carried to an extreme, often result in straining the vital organs. How much better it would be for the average person to regain health, strength and flesh by using Samose. This flesh forming food is assimilated as soon as it enters the stomach; it helps the organs to assimilate the food and extract the flesh forming elements.

Samose has been so successful in making thin people fat and restoring the weak and run down to strength and health that J. Hicks Bunting, the popular druggists, sells it under his popular druggist, sells it under his money if it does not benefit.

HON. THOS. SETTLE SPEAKS

Brilliant Republican Orator Heard by Fair Sized udience in Court House Last Night—Scores the Democrats.

Hon. Thos. Settle, of Asheville, one of the leading Republicans in North Carolina as well as one of the foremost orators of the State, who has recently landed a very lucrative office at Washington, held the attention of a fair sized audience at theCourt House in this city last night while he discussed the issues of the present campaign from the Republican standpoint.

He is unquestionably one of the most brilliant and pleasing speakers in the State and always holds the attention of his audience while he is speaking, whether they agree with him or not.

Although the speaking was advertised to begin at 8 o'clok it was 8:20 when Mr. Settle entered the court room with Iredell Meares, Esq., Republican candidate for Congress in this district. There were pernaps 100 persons in the court room, a portion of whom were members of the bar and personal friends of Mr. Settle, though of different political affiliation. It was yet some five minutes before Mr. Meares arose to introduce the speaker of the evening, who, however, did not need much introduction to a Wilmington audience having been heard here before. While waiting for the crowd to gather the Delgado band, occupying a position in the rear of the court room, rendered a number of selections. The band has improved wonderfully in the past few months, was the comment of several in the court room.

After a pleasing short introduction by Mr. Meares, Mr. Settle arose amidst enthusiastic applause. He began by saying that it was needless for him to express his pleasure at the privilege to speak to the people of this city on the eve of an important election. All elections are important, he said, and he considered that it does good for the people to meet and burnish up their patriotism, both National and State patriotism. The speaker had always been a great believer in political discussions. He thought they did good when the audience is in the proper spirit, when their minds are in such condition that they are open to conviction. The speaker, he said, did his duty only when he discussed the issues in a way to shed light—when he appeals to the reasoning capacity of those who compose the audience and not to passions and prejudices. Nothing, he said, could be done well when performed through passion or prejudice.

Mr. Settle spoke for an hour and 35 minutes and it would be well nigh impossible to give anything like a fair synopsis of his remarks in this brief space. The speaker held the attention of his hearers throughout, whether their views coincided with his or not.

PRESS AGENT FABRICATION.

This Paper Imposed Upon by One of Dixon's Writers.

Editor Morning Star, Wilmington, N. C.

Dear Sir:—I note in your issue of today special telegram, "Thos. Dixon at Goldsboro"—and wish to say that the ladies mentioned in this article, Mrs. Williams and Miss Sallie Hill, of Faison, as the "leaders" of this incident, did not stop in Goldsboro yesterday at all, but came through that city yesterday afternoon. I will thank you to correct this in your Sunday issue, as each have friends over the State that do not care for such notoriety. Thanking you in advance for your courtesy, and awaiting your prompt attention, I am, Yours truly,

M. McD. WILLIAMS.

—James R. Matthews, a colored youth, was arrested early yesterday afternoon by Patrolman W. R. Applebury on the charge of larceny. The youth was committed to the city prison in default of bond to await hearing before the Recorder tomorrow. The lad was found in possession of several pieces of wire, looked to be trimmings from electric light wire connections. It is doubtless if a case will be made out against him.

NEW WRIGHTSVILLE PROJECT

Proposition a Highly Important One for Wilmington—Means Thousands of Dollars to Business Community—Promoters

(Written for the Star.)

Business activity, not mere numbers, is the thing that mainly counts, as the Star truly said in its recent issue giving the disappointing census figures to us. The movement on foot to erect a hotel that will meet the ever increasing needs for better accommodations is one that should appeal to every person who calls himself a true son or daughter of Wilmington.

We have here a big asset. Nature has given us in Wrightsville Beach a great incentive to visit us. When the visitor reads in the papers, sees the advertisements, meets friends who have visited Wrightsville, he knows Wilmington, the two are one.

There is not a well-wisher, a citizen of our city, but who knows there is a strong demand for a higher priced, more modern hotel than any we have at present, as good as they are.

Charlotte has its new Selwyn, a $400,000 hotel, and Charlotte and Atlanta, the cities of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi in furnishing two-thirds of the capital, will enable us to have what their people want, a modern hotel with thoroughly up-to-date appointments.

The experimental stage is past, the success of a hotel at Wrightsville Beach is only a continuation of the success the builders of the first hotels (who took what then seemed great risks) will have, if properly managed.

What of the management, read the advertisement in this issue. The president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. J. Allen Taylor, is at the head of the organization; Mr. M. J. Corbett, is vice president; Mr. Thos. H. Wright is secretary and treasurer; Marcus W. Jacobi, Charles N. Evans, Chas. E. Taylor, Jr., D. L. Gore, H. C. McQueen, George G. Carter are its directors.

That these gentlemen have taken charge of the proposition is a guarantee of two things—First, the businesslike, economical and thorough management of its affairs devoid of all graft. Second, the financial sucess of the hotel.

Mr. George G. Carter, of Atlanta, is the active promoter and the Star assures him on behalf of the people of Wilmington their interest and their hearty co-operation. Mr. Carter asks of the business people of Wilmington a hearing and he will get it—for this hotel means money to each and every business man of this city.

Wilmington people must show to the people of Charlotte, Atlanta, Birmingham and other cities, that this enterprise has their hearty support, both moral and financial. A large part of the necessary stock is already subscribed and it is believed every public spirited citizen will lend his support.

Remember, it means directly the bringing of $175,000 of outside money to Wilmington. It means more than this, that each year it will bring to Wilmington thousands of visitors who will spend their money among us, and the records show that the past Summer 150,000 people visited Wrightsville Beach from elsewhere. It means that the retailers, the wholesalers, each and every business interest in Wilmington, will be directly or indirectly benefitted.

By the distribution of stock to the cities tributary to Wilmington, this city will receive a tremendous advertisement. It is believed that the establishment of this hotel will mean more to Wilmington than the building of a big cotton factory.

The building of a new and modern hotel at the beach is unquestionably a good business proposition, as well as a public-spirited one. We believe our people will so see it.

The hotel itself will be designed by Mr. Frank P. Milburn, of the firm of Milburn, Heister & Co., of Washington, D. C. Mr. Milburn's firm has a national reputation, they built the new 12-story office building and Selwyn Hotel in Charlotte, were selected to remodel the State Capitol, are the architects of the Southern Railroad and are particularly well known throughout the South.

Mr. Milburn spent three Summers at Wrightsville, loves it, believes we have the finest beach on the Atlantic coast and that the hotel he has designed will attract the class of people who have wealth, will see our advantages and who can and will invest with us.

Bound Over to Court.

When the case against Annie Hilton, colored, arrested Friday on the charge of stealing a quantity of ladies' garments from the home of Mr. Eugene Philyaw, was called in the Recorder's court yesterday morning, the warrant was amended to charge housebreaking instead of larceny, and defendant announced that she would waive preliminary investigation. She was bound over to Superior Court and in default of $250 bond went to jail. Cornie McGee and Annie Lowe, both colored, were assessed $5 each and the costs for an affray.

WILMINGTON Wrightsville Beach One City

What Does Wrightsville Beach Mean to Wilmington?

Ask yourself this question, Mr. Wilmington Merchant, Mr. Wilmington Property Owner, for it affects you. Realize, over 150,000 visitors were at Wrightsville Beach this past summer, and that Wrightsville Beach, at Wilmington, N. C., is advertised extensively throughout the country; know, over one-half million dollars were left in Wilmington by these visitors? Part of this comes to you, directly or indirectly.

NOW, Wilmington needs outside capital and needs it badly. Wilmington wants more people, more visitors, money left here. Wilmington wants to sell its groceries, clothing, its labor, to outside people. The opportunity to accomplish this is here presented. It has the backing of a Board of Directors of Wilmington's successful business men—men who have proven they can make money for themselves and for you.

First, it is a good, safe investment—one which is not an experiment, and will pay big returns, as all other hotels and boarding houses have and are doing. Now, one hotel (Tarrymoore) openly says it cleared net 25%, and the other certainly did as well. The second, an opportunity to build up your city and its suburbs—to add your help, be it one share or 50 shares to this great advance and development, making Wrightsville Beach the greatest resort of the South Atlantic Coast, and attracting more people here to see our advantages. What is proposed to be done, is to sell one-third of the stock in a new and large hotel here, then two-thirds out of Wilmington.

The New Hotel

Drawings, plans and arrangements for a thoroughly modern building to cost $250,000.00 have been made by Milburn, Heisker & Co., of Washington, D. C. This hotel will be thoroughly modern, really up to date, and one you will be proud of, and will cater to the wealthier people. A full description is impossible to give here, but drawings and description are for public inspection, and will be gladly shown you.

The following are the officers and board of directors—have you confidence in them, and does it not stand for an honest, straightforward administration without one cent of graft,—J. A. Taylor, President, M. J. Corbett, Vice President, Thos. H. Wright, Secretary and Treasurer; H. C. McQueen, D. L. Gore, Geo. G. Carter, C. E. Taylor, Jr., Chas. N. Evans.

Is Your Name on This List?

Each is a subscriber, and believe it a good investment and good for Wilmington. Can you afford not to aid your community (and yourself) by not taking stock? Realize, it is impossible to see each one personally, and phone to or advise any of the Directors or the Secretary, Mr. Thos. H. Wright. The subscriptions will be called for in easy installments. Next Sunday the new list will be published, and every business person should have some stock, be it large or small. We believe you will be on it. Remember, Wilmington raises only one-third, and outside capital two-thirds.

EACH SHARE $100.00, to Be Paid for in EASY INSTALLMENTS as Work Progresses.

A WEEK OF PRAYER HELD AT GRACE CHURCH.

The Woman's Home Mission Society of the Southern Methodist Church observed last week as a week of prayer. At Grace church the week was observed by afternoon prayer meetings led by different membes of its auxiliary. The services were both instructive and helpful spiritually. At each meeting different phases of the Home Mission work was presented and talks on the management of the great institutions under its supervision. The services were concluded on last Sunday by an exceedingly strong sermon by the pastor in which he presented the great subject of Home Missions and the importance of its work. The collection which amounted to over $50 was taken for the Ruth Hargrove Institute at Key West, Fla., a mission school for the Cubans who are flocking to our shores. Key West is a stategic point. With the completion of the Oversea railroad now being built by Mr. Flagler, Key West will be one of the great cities of the United States and geographically the nearest city to Cuba, Mexico and South America. Among the 8,000 Cubans there now, only 50 are Christians. Very soon, hundreds, yes thousands, will be pouring into this great port of the South. What will be the number tomorrow? The women of the Southern Methodist Church are asking for $20,000 for this institution through its self denial offering during the week of prayer to carry on a great religious and educational work.

—Loreny Addison, colored, who lives at No. 1109 McRae alley, was discovered yesterday morning to have a full developed case of smallpox and was quarantined at home.

—The receipts of cotton at the port during the past week exceeded the receipts for the same period last year by 5,927 bales. The comparative figures are 32,124 against 26,197.

—Fred Underwood, colored, reported to the police at midnight that he was held up and robbed by two negroes about 7:30 o'clock last night just back of the Marine Hospital. He said that he was relieved of $4.50.

Theatrical

The much heralded play, "The Sins of the Father," Tom Dixon's latest production, was presented at the Academy of Music yesterday, both matinee and night. There was a large audience at each performance, but the house was not filled.

It must be said that the play was disappointing, not especially as to the treatment of the subject, although very revolting, but generally, the troupe being composed of only mediocre players and when the play is stripped of the fact that it was written and is being presented by Tom Dixon, the distinguished divine, lecturer, author and playwright, there is not much to it. In fact, it is not the play that draws the crowd, but Tom Dixon. The redeeming feature of "The Sins of the Father" is the acting of the butler, "Andy," and the old cook, "Aunt Minerva," both of whom were splendid and their demeanor and dialect used true to life. When other parts of the play are forgotten those who witnessed the performances yesterday will remember these two characters and only a Southern man could have written the lines that made the characters so real.

Mr. Dixon made a short talk at the matinee and last night and on both occasions captured his audience, one gentleman having made the remark after the play last night that he had rather listen to Tom Dixon talk than see the performance. Mr. Dixon is a very eloquent man and in his remarks mentioned his first visit to Wilmington when a lad and that on the occasion two incidents connected with the visit were vividly impressed upon his mind, his first view of the Atlantic ocean and a visit to The Star office, where he met the distinguished editor, Dr. T. B. Kingsbury.

At the Crystal Palace.

An entirely new bill of vaudeville as well as motion pictures goes on tomorrow at the Crystal Palace. Acting Manager Peter Peiffer says that this week's bill will probably be the best that has yet been put on at the popular theatre. Among the features of the bill of vaudeville will be Beatrice Gibson, the clever soubrette, and The Great Stanley. The latter does a number of things that will prove of interest to the patrons of the resort. He offers to give $100 to the person who succeeds in making him laugh. He will walk down the aisle and those in the audience may resort to anything calculated to make a person laugh in their efforts to win the $100.

At the Bijou Tomorrow.

The Bijou offers a fine bill for tomorrow. "The Turn of the Balance" and "The Green Horn and the Girl" are the titles of the pictures that will be shown. The former is a society drama in which it is shown that true love enriches the soul as well as the giver, while the latter is another of those Western comedies that really are funny.

At Joyland.

At the Joyland theatre tomorrow will be shown a splendid bill, the feature of which will be "His Pastorate." There will also be another picture of interest. The theatre is open daily from 2:30 to 11 P. M.

REACTION IN COTTON MARKET

Caused by Lowe Cables and Unfavorable Weather—Close Steady at Loss of 12 and 17 Points—Conditions.

New York, Oct. 15.—Lower cables than expected and more favorable weather repots were followed by quite a sharp reaction in the cotton market today, the close being barely steady at a net loss of 12 to 17 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 9 to 13 points in response to lower cables. At first selling was restricted by early reports indicating that the West Indian storm was approaching south Florida and threatened to sweep up the South Atlantic coast, and shortly after the opening prices rallied to 4 points from the lowest. In other respects the weather news was generally favorable however, there being no sign of frost, and when private wires were received from New Orleans claiming that there had been a change in the course of the tropical storm which would carry it out over the Atlantic, selling here became heavier as a result of active realizing for over Sunday and operations for a reaction followed the recent rapid advance and the new high records of yesterday. There seemed to be a considerable demand from trade interests on a scale down, but last prices were at the lowest of the day. Reviews of the drygoods situation were generally encouraging as they suggested that the higher prices are paid during the week had not checked demand and a comparatively large business was reported at Fall River. These reports in connection with many private wires from interior southern points claiming very firm spot markets no doubt helped the rally after the opening decline, but local sentiment seemed to favor a reaction on the ground that prices were high enough to discount bullish factors and that the good weather in the South justified some increase in estimates of the crop.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 14.90; middling gulf 15.15. Sales none.

Futures opened steady and closed barely steady.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today 58,558 bales against 48,278 last week and 71,677 last year. For the yearweek 400,000 against 405,117 bales last week and 448,254 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 5,231 bales against 9,292 last year.

STOCK MARKET CONDITIONS

Heavy Week-End Profit Taking Follows Activity—Higher Money Market for Remainder of the Year is Predicted.

New York, Oct. 15.—The rapidity with which prices of stocks have been carried upwards this week invited heavy week-end profit taking today. Misgivings of the ability of the money market to stand the strain of active stock speculation also included the reduction of speculative lines.

Prices were bid up again at the end of the day to a strong closing.

Events both at home and abroad are believed to point to higher money markets for the last of the year. The demands on New York bank reserves from the interior continue and the exigencies of foreign money markets indicate that they will respond unwillingly to demands for relief from New York.

Some unsettlement was caused by the fresh disagreement over the cotton bill of lading controversy through the objections of cotton dealers in the South.

The bank statement disclosed, as was expected, that the trust companies rather than the clearing house banks are financing the stock market speculation. There was a decrease in loans of the banks shown by the actual condition of $19,226,600 in conjunction with an expansion in the average loans of other institutions of $12,382,600.

Bonds were firm. Total sales par value $1,858,000. United States bonds wee unchanged in the bid price on call from last week. Total sales today 419,700 shares stocks.

COTTON MARKET YESTERDAY.

Liverpool Opens Higher and Closes at Decline—Market Conditions.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Oct. 15.—Liverpool opened five points higher, became easier under heavy realizing and closed quiet t three points decline. This is the eventful cause of the decline here of some 15 points probably the underlying cause is the continued good weather with no frost in sight for several days and the failure of the tropical storm to move over the Mississippi valley.

Judging from the adjournment of the bankers' conference without positive action last evening, the tentative plan of a guarantee has not been abandoned, but evidently is still under consideration on the thought that inability to sell exchange might soon compel the Southern shipper to accept the scheme despite their almost unanimous opposition. It is estimated that the foreign bankers are supported in their efforts by the cotton exchanges in Europe, a fact which had not appeared in the discussion. During the last month the spinners have bought very freely both in this market and in the South. The course of prices will depend upon whether weather induces them to continuing buying as everyone else is long of cotton.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Oct. 15.—The cotton goods market grows stronger. Amoskeag tickings and Atlantic brown sheetings have been advanced 1-2c a yard. The yarn market continue very strong. Linens are firm and in fair request.

THE CROSS-TIE INDUSTRY.

Steam and Electric Railroads Expended Over $50,000,000 in 1909.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—There was a substantial increase, amounting to about 10 per cent., in the number of wooden cross-ties purchased for consumption by the steam and electric railroads in the United States in the calendar year 1909, as compared with the number purchased in 1908. This information appears in a preliminary comparative report covering 1909, 1908 and 1907, which was transmitted today to Census Director Durand by Chief Statistician William M. Steuart, under whose supervision it was prepared by J. E. Whelchel, special agent of the Division of Manufactures. The Census Bureau, in conjunction with the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture, annually collects and publishes a special report relative to the consumption of cross-ties.

The comparative table, embodied in the report, shows the principal kinds of wood used in the manufacture of cross-ties. These, in the ranking order into which they fell in 1909, are: oaks, Southern pines, Douglas fir, Western pine, cedar, chestnut, cypress, tamarack, hemlock, redwood, white pine, lodgepole pine, gum, spruce and beech, and the remaining varieties are grouped together in an "all other" class.

In 1909 the total number of crossties of all kinds of wood, reported as having been purchased, was 123,754,600, costing $60,321,000 at the point of purchase, as compared with 112,463,000, costing $56,281,000, in 1908, and 153,700,000, costing $78,959,000, in 1907. The latter year does not, however, represent the true standard of comparison, as it was one of unusual railroad development. The decrease in 1908 was about 26.8 per cent, but in 1909 the balance swung back to 80.5 per cent. of the 1907 record, and was, as stated, an increase of about 10 per cent. over 1908.

While there was considerable variation in the number of cross-ties purchased during the three years, the average cost per tie remained close to 50 cents.

A significant feature is the fact that in 1909 there were 16,437,000 cross-ties reported as purchased for new track, as against 7,431,000 in 1908, and 23,557,000 in 1907.

The purchase by steam railroads formed about 93 per cent. of the total

For More Than Three Decades

Foley's Honey and Tar has been a household favorite for coughs, colds, and ailments of the throat, chest and lungs. Contains no opiates. Robert R. Bellamy.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

THE CROSSTIE INDUSTRY.

in 1909 as compared with approximately 94 per cent. in both 1908 and 1907.

The oaks continued in 1909 to lead by a wide margin all the other kinds of cross-tie material. Moreover, in the general return of the industry toward the 1907 record, owing to renewed activity in railroad extension, the oaks have come back faster than any other species. In 1907 the total number of oak cross-ties reported was 61,757,000; in 1908 it was 48,111,000; and in 1909 it was 57,132,000. During those years the proportion of oak cross-ties in the total number purchased ranged from 40 to 46 per cent. Southern pines, which numbered more than half as many as the oaks in 1907, dropped to considerably less than half in 1908 and decreased a little further in 1909. The figures are 34,215,000 in 1907; 21,529,000 in 1908, and 21,384,000 in 1909. In each year the oaks and Southern pines together formed about two-thirds of the total number purchased. Douglas fir, while showing a material gain over 1908, was in 1909 still short of the number purchased in 1907, which was 14,524,000. In 1908 the total was 7,987,000 and in 1909 it was 9,068,000. From third place in the ranking order in 1907, Douglas fir drppped to fifth in 1908, but came back to third in 1909. In 1907 cedar, with 8,953,000, was fourth in rank; in 1908 it rose, with 8,172,000, to third place, displacing Douglas fir; but in 1909, with 6,778,000 it gave way to Western pine, and took fifth rank. In 1907 chestnut was fifth, with 7,851,000; in 1908 fourth, with 8,074,000, and in 1909 sixth, with 6,629,000. Cypress held the sixth position, with 6,779,000 in 1907; seventh, with 3,457,000 in 1908, and seventh again, with 4,589,000 in 1909. Western pine was seventh from the top, with 5,019,000 in 1907; ninth, with 3,093,000 in 1908, and fourth, with 6,797,000 in 1909. Tamarack was eighth in rank in 1907 and 1909, but sixth in 1908. Hemlock was ninth in 1907 and 1909, but eighth in 1908. Redwood has held tenth place each year.

A marked increase is noticeable in the use of gum and beech woods. Of the former, there were 15,000 cross-ties purchased in 1907, 262,000 in 1908, and 378,000 in 1909. The total number of beech cross-ties purchased was 51,000 in 1907, 193,000 in 1908, and 195,000 in 1909.

ty as a National party are fundamentrol of the State government ally wrong. It teaches that the power to levy taxes and collect revenues for the support of the government carries with it the power to distribute the burdens of supporting the government unequally. Under the guise of protecting certain industries the government may make laws to enrich one class of men at the expense of another class. Democracy says that the burdens and blessings of government should be distributed on all alike. Republicanism says not so, but that these burdens and blessings should be distributed according to the sweet will of the few who dictate the making of the laws. It is the privilege and the duty of the young man to stand with the party which stands for equality of opportunity in the race of life. I warn you against the seductive appeal that is sometimes addressed to you to join this or that party on the plea that it may offer personal advantage. Public service and human welfare are the considerations that ought to weigh with a high-minded manhood.

"When the young men come to form party affiliations in this State not one should have the slightest difficulty in making his selection between the Democratic and Republican parties. The Democratic party has ever stood for high ideals and has wrought magnificient results. The Republican party has stood for low ideals and when it was given power has brought wreck and ruin on its wake and shame and disgarce upon the State.

"I became a worker in the Democratic party in the days just preceding the war and I saw its victories and achievements then. I assisted in its reorganization after the war and I have worked with it and for it ever since. I have seen it go down in defeat twice during these long years from 1865 to 1910 and, Oh, what darx and damnable pages were written in my State's history during these two Republican administrations! There cannot be one among you who would not wipe out blots upon the fair name of our dear old State if you could. That cannot be done but I will tell you what you can do. You can unite with the party that has twice redeemed the State from unworthy rule.

"I have seen the Democratic party take charge of the government of the State when she lay prostrate under Republican oppressions, when her people were poor and almost hopeless, when the school houses were closed and the teacher was silent, when ruin and despair seemed to brood over the land. And under Democratic rule I have seen the dark clouds pass away and hope revive. I have seen the school house opened and the teacher abroad in the land. I have seen good government take the place of bad government and law and order hold sway everywhere. I have seen poverty give away to prosperity, and the mourning of the people turned into joy. I have seen the State rise from the wreck and ruin wrought by Republican misrule and take her place under Democratic rule under the foremost States in this great Union of States.

"It is into the ranks of this great and glorious party whose records are so full of magnificient achievements that I invite my dear young friends to come and share with us in labors and triumphs in unbuilding in the State."

THOS. J. JARVIS.

FOR BOOKER WASHINGTON.

Making Canvass for Amount Necessary to Bring Educator.

In their efforts to raise the required amount to defray the expenses of the visit of Booker T. Washington, the noted negro educator, who delivers an address in the opera house on the evening of November 3rd, the colored people have the co-operation of a number of prominent and leading white citizens of this community, who believe that the visit of Washington will result in much good for the race in this section of the State.

The committee in charge of the arrangements and who will serve as the reception committee is composed of the following well known colored people: O. H. Lennon, Revs. G. D. Carnes, G. L. White, W. H. Moore, Geo. W. Moore, J. A. Bonner, W. H. Capeheart, Dr. T. R. Mask, John E. Taylor, T. A. Smith, T. H. Hooper and E. M. Green. Rev. G. D. Carnes has prepared the following for the Star relative to the visit of Washington:

The committee has entered actively into the work of making possible the visit of the Tuskegee educator, and are meeting with the most favorable encouragement from the better element of the white race, and emphasizes again the fact that friction finds its most congenial soil in the passions of the lower elements.

"The colored people are very anxious that Washington touch as many of the ill favored of the race as possible with his Gospel of work and industry, and are, therefore, striving to raise the necessary means to bear the expense of the occasion, and throw open the doors of the opera house and bid them enter. It is also our desire to have enough of the leading white citizens present to countenance the spirit of the occasion and give it force and parking space will be reserved for them, doubtless when a further conference is had on the matter.

"The occasion of the visit is not pleasure nor profit, financially, but for the moral and industrial uplift of the race. And after an entertainment commensurate with the worth and usefulness of the foremost man of the race the committee intends presenting the remainder to the James Walker Memorial Hospital.

"The visit is now assured and will occur November the 3rd. The speaking will take place in the opera house at 8 P. M.

"Last year the Washington party toured Tennessee and South Carolina in a similar campaign and the most favorable results have followed."

ONLY TWO WEEKS REMAIN IN BIG POPULARITY CONTEST

Time For Consistent Effort in Extra Bonus Offer is The Present.

THE LAST OPPORTUNITY

Eighteen Dollars in New Subscriptions Are What Count in the Final Round-Up—A Word to the Contestants.

Three weeks from tomorrow night and the final count of the Star's big popular voting contest will take place!

Contestants attention! Will you be one who can say you did your best and secured every subscription possible, and be one of the lucky winners, or will you be one who merely accepted the subscriptions as they were handed you and made no effort to secure new ones yourself?

Contestants who really help themselves will find it a very easy matter to be winners in a contest of this kind, and now is the time to make subscriptions count for three times their regular value.

Secure $18.00 in new subscriptions and secure the regular number of votes on each subscription, and also 18,000 extra votes.

Now this is positively the last extra vote offer that will be put on during this entire contest, and when the Contest Manager announces this as the last one, that means that this is final. Now is the only time to secure extra votes, and as this offer closes on the 29th of this month it behooves each and every contestant to start right now without further delay, and make themselves winners of the many handsome prizes which are offered by the Star management.

All leading contestants who have not as yet sent in their photographs will assist the management very much if they will do so at once. The photo no matter how small, will in most cases do very well, and it will be returned on the same condition as received at this office

The contest opportunity should not be overlooked, for prizes like these are not given away absolutely free very often, and the work connected with the contest work grows to be a pleasure as the days pass by, and the friends of the contestants grow more and more interested.

Remember that on each yearly new subscription that is sent in, the contestant will receive 2,000 votes, and when there are three of these to the contestant's credit, he or she will receive a coupon for 18,000 extra votes, which are entirely extra, and which come as a bonus for good work.

Do not think that after you have secured one of these clubs for $18 that you must stop, for you should start for another, and on each one secured, the 18,000 extra votes will be given.

Remember that the final count on the last night might be close, and one subscription might make the winner, so do not let an opportunity slip by, but do your best and no more can be expected. The announcement of the vote today is as follows:

MISSION OF THE CARRIER

Officials of Rural Association Resent Imputation That They are Perniciously Active in Politics—Statement.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Oct. 15.—Tuesday's News and Observer sees fit to come out in a tirade of abuse for the rural letter carriers of North Carolina, as will be seen from editorial below:

Rural Delivery Carriers Violate the Law.

"The attention of the Civil Service Commission will be called today to the letter in this paper from Mr. Andrew Joyner, of Greensboro, stating that rural delivery carriers are making themselves peripatetic Radical missionaries. This is not the first time that such complaints have been made. This violation of the law must be stopped or some rural delivery carriers will loose their heads.

"The laws forbids political activity by all civil service employes. Those rural delivery carriers who obey the law are respected, no matter to what party they belong. But there are too many of them who sneak about carrying political messages and doing the dirty work of a sorry lot of little political bosses. If this is continued, the rural delivery service will be descend to a low plane and carriers will be regarded as emissaries of evil.

"Let the people stand by the carriers who stand by the law. Let them expose the political strikers who disobey the law. Let the Civil Service Commission compel observance of the law now while there is an incentive to political activity. It is true the salaries of the carriers are not large and that Republicans are ready to pay subservient carriers to violate their oath of office and become their tools. But there is no excuse for this activity and it will not be tolerated in North Carolina."

"The News and Observer will forward any complaints of pernicious political activity on the part of civil service officers to the Civil Service Commission and demand action."

It has been the chief effort of the North Carolina Association of Rural Letter Carriers to place themselves on a higher plane and that they have done so is attested by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General P. V. DeGraw, a gentleman who knows and is in touch daily with each carrier of the State and who testifies in the most unqualified terms of their worthiness and who is undoubtedly better qualified to speak of their merits and demerits than any penny-a-liner in North Carolina or elsewhere.

Because, forsooth, a carrier over at Roseboro got tanked up and committed a murder, shall all the carriers of our State be classed as murderers? Because a carrier from Greensboro or elsewhere carried in his mail pouch some Republican literature for a patron, are all of us to be accused of "Pernicious Political Activity?" It is our sworn duty to carry the mail, be it of whatever nature, Populistic, Democratic, Republican, Prohibition, Anti-Prohibition, Anarchistic, Unitarian, Catholic, Protestant, Mormon and deliver same to our patrons, although it may be ever so objectionable and our patrons tell us to "dump it into the river." It goes through the mill, viz: the mail pouch and si shot unerringly into its owner's box. Then our duty of delivery is discharged. The question of politics is never argued at our annual gatherings. We know not, we care not to which political party the rank and file of carriers belong. We are only interested in giving the best service we can to the people whom we serve and to the Postoffice Department to which each carrier shows his or her utmost loyalty. The hardships undergone are innumerable. There is no Summer sun so hot and no Winter's cold so intense that deters the carrier from his duty, and his duty is to deliver and collect all mail intrusted to his care. He has no time to discuss politics with his patrons, his average trip is 25 miles in five hours, oftentimes a mile out of the way and a mile back to deliver a registered package and count and receipt for Sunday School money in small change, issue receipts for money orders, give receipts for registered packages. A pleasant greeting for the school teachers on his route, a word to the church officers that he may meet, whose building his money has helped to paint, a word of cheer for the lonely widow and the sick patient for whom the carrier has brought some medicine from the doctor. Why the carrier hasn't time for any "pernicious activity." We would inform the News and Observer that we have higher and nobler aspirations. We would let the fact be known that we are politically always the same and have never been astride the fence, dickering for the best offer. Our slogan is good roads, rural uplift, a higher moral plane.

Truly,

C. H. HOWARD,
President, Lumber Bridge.

Vice President, Rocky Point.

ACROSS THE CONTINENT!

Interesting Description of Recent Trip to American Bankers' Association Convention on the Pacific Coast—Grand Canyon.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 7, 1910.

Editor Star:—The New York Central's Bankers' Special left New York September 26th at 3:30 o'clock, in three sections of ten cars each. One section left on Saturday, 24th, the Red Special. Our party was on the Blue Special. The three sections were almost in sight of one another the whole distance across the continent and arrived here on schedule time. We spent a day and night at Grand Canyon, Ariz. In looking at this wonder, one is overwhelmed with its awful grandeur. No words can begin to describe it. Looking across it from the southern rim in front of the Hotel El Tavar, it appears to be about a mile and a half to the northern rim, which is 1,200 feet higher than the southern rim where I stood, and the distance across is 13 miles. The Canyon is over 200 miles long and at its bottom where the Colorado river rushes through it, its depth is over 4,000 feet. The river is 2,600 feet above sea level. Looking at it from the rim 4,000 feet above it appears to be 4 to 10 feet wide, but is actually 200. It snows all around the Canyon but never in it, or if it does, the snow melts before reaching the bottom. It is filled with wondrous temples and mountains of rock of many colors which are constantly changing with the varying lights and shadows, but one could write a book about it, and never tell half its wonderful grandeur.

Los Angeles is growing rapidly and its crowded streets and handsome buildings show it to be a very substantial city of over 300,000 population. Its suburbs are filling up with fine residences and hotels, with orange groves everywhere. Its people are hospitable and their entertainment of the convention most lavish. Yesterday we went to Santa Catalina Island and saw the famous marine gardens through the glass bottom boats. The island is 25 miles out in the Pacific ocean and has several good hotels.

There are hundreds of interesting things here, well worth coming three thousand miles to see. Tomorrow morning we leave for San Francisco, Seattle, Portland, Vancouver and east by the Canadian Pacific across the Rockies.

FORESTS OF NORTH CAROLINA

Fires and Their Destruction—Wood Using Industries and Some of the Possibilities in the State—Publications.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 15.—Two reports have recently been issued by the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey relating to the forests of this State. The first of these is a report on Forest Fires in North Carolina during 1909, by J. S. Holmes, Forester of the Survey, published as Economic Paper No. 19. The statistics given in this report were collected in co-operation with the United States Forest Service. This report has been issued on account of the enormous loss North Carolina sustains each year as the result of forest fires, and it gives the result of an investigation regarding the number of forest fires, the amount of damage they did, their causes, and whether it would have been possible to have prevented any of them. Although the survey was not able to obtain as full information as was desired, yet the statistics given are of considerable importance and show the need of some legislation to prevent, as far as possible, this enormous waste that is caused each year by forest fires.

Fire is undoubtedly the greatest enemy to the forest. It has been estimated by the National Conservation Commission that the loss by fire on standing timber for the past thirty years has averaged $50,000,000 and this takes no account of the destruction of young growth. The statistics of 1909 showed that North Carolina sustained a loss of over $500,000 from forest fires. The fires which caused this damage were chiefly due to carelessness. To overcome this careless attitude on the part of the people and interest both private effort and State co-operation in the fight against forest fires, public opinion on this subject must be awakened.

The second report is on the Wood Using Industries of North Carolina and was prepared by the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey in co-operation with the United States Forest Service. It was prepared by Roger E. Simmons, under the supervision of J. S. Holmes, of the North Carolina Geological and Economic Survey, and H. S. Sackett, of the United States Forest Service, and is published as Economic Paper No. 20. This report deals with the wood-using industries of North Carolina as follows:

1. Those manufacturing directly from the log a finished product, which cannot be changed by any further process of manufacture, such as staves, excelsior, shingles, veneer boxes, or mine rollers; 2. those using rough lumber and by the application of skilled labor and wood-using machinery convert it into such finished products as furniture, boxes, flooring, etc. The various tables in this report show the sources of the wood used, the kinds of lumber demanded by the wood working factories, the price paid for each species delivered, the quantity consumed, and the purposes for which it was used.

An investigation of this character should be of value in a number of ways. To the State of North Carolina it should be of considerable assistance in forming an inteligent forest policy and in presenting the advantage the State offers to wood using industries to locate in it. The timber owner, and even the farmer who has a few scattered trees to sell, can learn from this report where a market can be found. To the sawmill operator it may suggest a use for wood which he previously considered of little commercial value. To the manufacturer who is under the necessity of looking beyond his own State for all, or part, of the lumber needed, it will furnish a source of fairly accurate information concerning a region most likely to supply his needs. The merchants throughout the country who handle wood products can study to advantage the report of what North Carolina has to sell, or wishes to buy. For the people at large it has a statistical value, and gives much general information.

It gives valuable information concerning the forms, uses, and grades in which the factories desire the lumber, and also the woods most suitable for specific uses. The chief purposes of this report are to give needed information regarding these industries, to stimulate trade by bringing together buyer and seller, and to show the citizens of North Carolina the wisdom of perpetuating her valuable wood using industries by the adoption of an intelligent forest policy. Two appendices have been added to this report. The first gives a list of the different kinds of woods that are found in North Carolina, together with the various purposes for which they are used, and the second appendix gives a list of the wood manufacturers of North Carolina under the heads of the products which they manufacture.

Summary of Results.

The value of the timber crop in North Carolina is exceeded only by that of the cotton and corn crops. According to the United States Census Bureau, the value of the lumber cut in this State amounted in 1908 to $15,000,000.

The foregoing report shows that half of this lumber was purchased by firms in this State and manufactured by them into a finished product. For this lumber, together with a small amount of logs, billets and timber in other forms which they used, these firms paid something over $10,000,000.

This enormous industry has been dependent for its supply of raw material almost entirely on timber that has grown up under natural conditions, the present owners being in no way responsible or assisting in the production, much of the timber having been growing for 200 to 300 years. As the old timber disappears, and it is rapidly doing so, the methods of the producers will have to change; either this timber will have to be procured outside the State or these large and valuable industries, second only in importance to cotton manufacture, will have to shut down.

As long as both the growing and manufacture of this timber can be carried on profitably in this State we cannot afford to give up either part of this two-fold industry. North Carolina probably contains as large a proportion of mountain land specially suitable for the growth of hardwoods, which is what most of these industries require, as any other State. We can, therefore, grow the raw material more cheaply, and furnish it to these factories at a lower price.

This report is intended as an incentive to improvement and as an aid in bringing about better conditions, partly in demonstrating the value of our forests to the people of the State, but chiefly by enlarging the market for the lower grades of wood by letting other parts of the country know what North Carolina can furnish them.

By protecting the forests from fire so that the annual rate of growth can be continually increasing, and by closer utilization, thus preventing waste in the woods and at the mill, there is no reason why the annual yield of our forests cannot, after a comparatively short time, be doubled.

If as much care and foresight were exercised in the growing, protection, harvesting, and marketing of the raw material as is now given to the manufacture of the finished product, there need be no fear of an impending timber famine on the part of the wood using industries of North Carolina.

SHEARING THE LAMBS.

Various Mining Schemes and How the Innocent Are Shorn.

New York, Oct. 15.—Chief Postoffice Inspector Warren Dickson is authority for the statement that $5,000,000 is lost annually in this country in spurious mining ventures.

With the imposing record of frauds practiced in the name of high finance to fortify them against temptation it is incredible that so many continue to fall a prey to the snare of the mining shark with his blind trail of treasure in some far away hole in the ground and his lurid tale of millions waiting to fatten hungry pocketbooks. Aside from the sense of improvidence which it reflects there is in the large support commanded from the public by wild cat mining promotions what must seem to students of political economy a strange anachronism.

While the booster of such properties appears to have little or no trouble in loosening the purse strings of investors, the anamolous spectacle is presented of James J. Hill, builder of the Great Northern Railroad, Arthur E. Stillwell, constructor of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railroad, and other creators of the country's wealth, being forced to go abroad to secure money with which to extend their roads.

The popular tendency to ignore practical enterprises in order to give chase to some ignis fatuas of fortune is an old story, emphasized so often in the beginning of what afterwards became the Nation's greatest and most prosperous industries that one instinctively recalls that famous aphorism of the late P. T. Barnum that "a new fool is born every minute." Samuel F. B. Morse almost starved to death while waiting for recognition for his telegraph, one of the greatest money making institutions that the world has ever known. Elias Howe, inventor of the sewing machine, sustaining himself, his wife and three children on crusts of bread in London, while he vaintly tried to interest financiers in his great invention, which in later years netted him the princely income of $4,000 a day, had to pawn his model and patent papers for money to pay his passage back to New York.

United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew, of New York, tells with deep chagrin nowadays how he could have bought the telephone patents of Prof. Alexander Graham Bell for $60,000 an investment that would have yielded him $100,000,000 had he made it at the time. The story invented by a wag that Peter Cooper's first locomotive was beaten in a five mile race by an old gray horse prevented New York State from financing the building of the first railroad constructed in this country.

Notwithstanding that most of the great fortunes of this country like those of Rockefeller and Carnegie have been made through industrial inventions and discoveries which accomplish today in one hour what took ten to effect yesterday, the hole in the ground stil appears to be the fetish of untold thousands. Realizing this it is hard to understand the continued gascination which year in and year out prompts men and women to give up their hard earned savings to the greedy horde of schemers whose only asset is generally an unexplored cavern in some mountain side and the hope that one day it may produce a profit to those who foolishly put their money into it—a prospect which rarely eventuates.

THE GOVERNMENT RECOVERS.

Damages Awarded For Destruction of Young Forest Growth.

Washington, D. C. Oct. 15.—In an action for fire trespass on the Black Hills National Forest brought by the United States against the Missouri River and Northwestern Railroad, the jury has awarded damages to the Government not only for the loss of merchantable timber but also for the destruction of unmerchantable young growth.

This is regarded by Government officials as establishing a very important precedent. So far as is known at the U. S. Department of Agriculture, it is the first time that any court has recognized what foresters call the "expectation value" of young growth as furnishing a basis for the award of damages. The difficulty in the way of such an award in the past has been that there was no way to prove to the satisfaction of the courts the money value of the loss suffered.

The award in the South Dakota case followed the presentation of evidence as to the cost of work in reforesting which the Government is actually doing in the Black Hills.

The amount claimed for the young growth burned was $12 an acre, and the claim under this item was allowed in full by the jury. The total amount of damages claimed was $3,728.35, of which $4,634.45 was for merchantable timber destroyed or injured by the fire.

It is recognized by foresters that the cost of artificial reforestation will not always furnish a fair basis for estimating the damages to forest reproduction. Where new growth can be expected by natural sowing from seed trees on the ground within a short time, artificial planting or sowing is an unnecessarily expensive method. To meet such cases what are known as "yield tables" are being prepared. By the use of these the loss can be shown in terms of the final crop and the time necessary to produce it.

Thus, if it is known that ten thousand feet of timber per acre can be cut once in seventy years, it is easy to calculate the value of the crop when it is ten years old by discounting from its value when it mature. In European countries where forestry has been long practiced this method is regularly applied in selling, condemning, or estimating damages on forest property.

It is also used abroad in insurance, which would be impracticable if there were not both an accepted basis for determining the loss suffered and a reasonably accurate knowledge of the hazard involved.

AT THE THEATRES.

All this week the Academy of Music will offer a popular price attraction, and it will be the first of its type of the present season. The company, known as the Starkey Players, is only filling engagements at the larger Southern theatres. Seats for the opening tomorrow night went on sale at Plummer's yesterday, and the usual free courtesy is being extended the ladies, providing seats are reserved by 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

One of the biggest attractions of the entire season will be offered by the Academy next week, when the Aborn English Grand Opera Company will appear.

Week of Popular Prices.

"Starkey's Players" will begin a week's engagement at the Academy of Music tomorrow night. This attraction is said to be one of the strongest organizations of its kind in town and comes to our city highly recommended by press and public of the various cities in which they have appeared. The company is headed by W. H. Starkey and the Carleton Sisters, while their associate players are all well known stock actors and actresses far above the average players carried on the road by companies of this class.

The opening play Monday evening will be "The Little Homestead," a comedy drama that appeals to all classes. This play served as a starring vehicle for Wm. McCauley for three seasons, and has been secured by the management of "Starkey's Players' at a fancy royalty.

Every play produced by this company is given a complete scenic equipment. In fact, each little detail is carefully looked after, giving to their patrons a performance that is sure to create very favorable comments.

This company comes from a twenty weeks' run at the Majestic Theatre, Montgomery, Ala.

Grand Opera in English.

The management of the Academy has just arranged for the appearance Tuesday night, October 25th, of the Aborn English Grand Opera Company, an organization which has become famous in the larger cities for its excellent presentations of grand opera in the vernacular at what are known as popular prices in this field by comparison with those charged at the Metropolitan Opera House and institutions of that class in which expensive foreign stars are featured. Messrs. Hilton and Sargent Aborn, the managing directors of this aggregation, have gained much credit in past years for their recognition and promotion of American vocal talent and since the beginning of their first grand opera company years ago they have received such warm support from music lovers that their organization has increased from one to six companies of about 100 members each. Last season the various branches of this institution were located in Boston, New York, Baltimore, Washington, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Cincinnati for long runs of from five to twenty weeks in each city. The expense of the undertaking, and the doubt of equal support in other places have prevented them from sending any of their organizations on regular tours of the United States and Canada until this season, when the demands from many quarters for grand opera in English have been so strong as to induce them to send this particular company on a trip that will take in most of the important cities from coast to coast. Two sets of principal artists will appear at alternate performances, all of whom were selected from the companies which won great favor in Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Louis last season, with a chorus of 60 and a large orchestra of selected grand opera musicians. The company will travel by special train including three baggage cars required to carry the production of "Il Trovatore," "Aida," "Carmen," "Faust," "Lucia di Lammermoor," 'Cavalleria Rusticana" and "The Bohemian Girl." The prices for seats will range from $2 down to 50 cents.

MISS HAZEL CARLETON.

Talented Young Leading Woman With the Starkey Players, Academy of Music, All This Week.

Rita Fornia.

Mr. Heinrich Conried, the late Director of the Metropolitan Opera House, heard Rita Fornia sing in Brooklyn several years ago, and was so impressed with her beautiful voice, that she was given a hearing at the Metropolitan singing "Dich Theure Halle," and another air. As Miss Fornia remarked one day, "People make fun of Brooklyn sometimes, but it was certainly through my appearance there that I happened to become a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company. Now that I have had my chance before an audience of the most influential opera house in the world, no one can be more happy than I."

Miss Fornia first had her chance two years ago when she was called upon at the last moment to take Mme. Eames' place in "Il Trovatore" (when this artist was unable to appear) and no one was more happy through the unexpected opportunity and the knowledge that she had "made good" than was Rita Fornia, and after that performance she had been retained by a contract for a term of years with the Metropolitan Opera Company, to appear in the important soprano roles.

Rita Fornia will give a recital in Wilmington at the Academy of Music, the night of November 11th. She will be assisted by Arturo Tibaldi, the noted violinist.

Association Shows How Red Cross Seals Would Provide Hospitals.

New York, Oct. 15.—What "A Million for Tuberculosis from Red Cross Seals" will do in the checking of consumption, is explained in a bulletin issued today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

Counting every available bed for consumptives in the United States, even those in almshouses, penal institutions, and hospitals for the insane, there are at the present time accommodations for hardly 30,000 tuberculosis patients. This is just about one bed for every ten indigent consumptives, and if all tuberculous persons in the country are counted, both rich and poor, hardly one for every 25 or 30. If sufficient hospital accommodations are provided only for those who are too poor to pay the full price for their treatment, fully 275,000 more beds in special institutions for tuberculosis would be needed at once. The immense outlay necessary to provide and maintain so many beds in hospitals, makes it imperative, the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis declares, that such institutions be erected from public money, either municipal, county or State. In order to get appropriations for public hospitals for tuberculosis, agitation is necessary, and in order to create a campaign of agitation, organization is demanded. But in order that an organization may carry on an effective campaign, funds are needed.

These funds it is proposed to secure in as many communities as possible from the sale of Red Cross Seals.

The National Association cites one illustration of the way in which a small sum spent in education has secured large appropriations. The New York State Charities Aid Association in three years, 1908, 1909 and 1910 has spent in the up-State portion of New York about $55,000 in arousing the people to the dangers of tuberculosis. As a direct result of the public sentiment produced by this outlay, the State, county and municipal authorities have already appropriated for tuberculosis work $1,500,000 and appropriations for hundreds of thousands of dollars are pending. Hundreds of hospital beds have been provided, and the Association already aims for "No Uncared for Tuberculosis in 1915."

Thus, the National Association says if a million dollars is realized from the sale of Red Cross Seals, millions more will be added to it from the public treasuries. Last year 25,000,000 stamps were sold. It is aimed this year to sell four times as many.

MALARIA AND CIVILIZATION

Relation of Disease to History—Dr. Donald Ross Speaks in England. Its Influence on People and Nations.

Dr. Ronald Ross, one of the world's greatest authorities on malaria, in an address before the Oxford, (Eng.) Medical Society, calls special attention to the relation of this disease to history. He points out that Greece, in prehistoric times, was settled by fair-haired Aryan invaders from the North; that these people—the people of the time of Pericles— were they who, in establishing Grecian arts, sciences and philosophies, gave Greece her place in history. In the time of these people, Greece was a country with fertile valleys, beautiful cities, and a race of vigorous men well trained in the use of arms. But today, Lake Kopias, almost deserted, is surrounded by the massive and crumbling ruins of once populous and busy cities.

Why this flight? Recall that the original settlers of Greece came from a northern country where neither they nor their ancestry had ever contended with malaria. Here it is necessary that the writer direct the reader's attention to an important principle; a disease in new soil—that is, in a race of people who have never had to contend with it, is comparatively severe. Such a people do not possess the natural inherited immunity which has been acquired by a race whose ancestry for centuries have contended with the same disease. For example, consider the relation of the white and black races to tuberculosis and hookworm disease. The white race, having lived for centuries under climatic conditions that demanded closely built houses, has long suffered from a disease, tuberculosis, that results from unwise housing. The black race comparatively recently has adopted the type of house long used by the white race. The negro is, therefore, new soil for tuberculosis—the house disease. Consequently, tuberculosis is twice as frequent and twice as fatal for the negro as it is for the white. On the other hand, hookworm disease is primarily a disease of the tropics. The native inhabitants of the tropics, the negro, for centuries has contended with this disease, while the white race has had hookworm to contend with only since the negro was imported as a slave. Now, the effect of hookworm on the white man is at least five or ten times more severe than it is on the negro. In this connection, we may note in passing, that hookworm disease is one of the curses of slavery—perhaps the major curse—for, undoubtedly, hookworm disease has caused the death of ten times more people than were destroyed on both sides in our bloody war. Economically, it has cost the South more than that war cost the Nation.

Now, with this biological principle in mind, let us return to the consideration of the relation of malaria to Grecian civilization. As already stated, those composing the population of civilized Greece were from a Northern race who had never contended with malaria; they were, therefore, new and susceptible soil for this disease, which they, themselves, brought back from their conquests in Persia and Egypt. Their returning soldiers came home suffering from the disease; the prisoners and slaves brought back with their army had the disease. The disease, once introduced, was more severe and fatal to the primitive Aryan stock than for the descendants of the Persian and Egyptian slaves, prisoners and immigrants. In this way, the darker and weaker people of modern Greece replaced the fairer and stronger makers of ancient Grecian civilization.

Ross goes on to say it is impossible to conceive of the many highly malarious districts of Greece being inhabited by a vigorous, highly civilized people. He concluded his reference with these significant words: "I saw from a spur of Helikon the sun setting upon Parnassus, Apollo sinking, as he was wont to do, towards his own fane at Delphi, and pouring a great flood of light over the great Konaik Plain. But it seemed that he was the only inhabitant of it. There was nothing there. 'Who,' said a rich Greek to me, 'would think of going to live in such a place as that?' I doubt much whether it is the Turk who has done all this. I think it is very largely the malaria."

The relation of malaria to tropical civilization is a vital one. To again quote Ross: "Malarial fever is important not only because of the misery which it inflicts upon mankind, but because of the serious opposition which it has always given to the march of civilization in the tropics. Unlike many diseases, it is essentially endemic, a local malady, and one which, unfortunately, haunts more especially the fertile, well-watered, and luxurious tracts—precisely those which are of the greatest value to man. There it strikes down not only the indigenous barbaric population, but, with still greater certainty, the pioneers of civilization—the planter, the trader, the missionary and the soldier. It is, therefore, the principal and gigantic ally of barbarism. No wild deserts, no savage races, no geographical difficulties have proved so inimical to civilization as this disease. We may also say that it has withheld an entire continent from humanity—the immense fertile tracts of Africa; what we call the Dark Continent should be called the Malarious continent and for centuries the successive waves of civilization which have flooded and fertilized Europe and America have broken themselves in vain upon its deadly shores."

Another striking example that bears on Ross' statement is the cause of the failure of the French and the explanation of the success of the Americans in the Panama Canal undertaking. It is estimated that the French lost 50,000 men from mosquito-borne diseases, malaria and yellow fever. Their hospitals were overcrowded most of the time. The high death rate of 100 to every 1,000 prevailed—that is to say, one person out of every ten of the population lost his or her life each year. This death rate prevailed in 1887. This was enough to hold back a people with the courage of the "Old Guard."

When the United States began the canal in 1905, the death rate was 65 per 1,000 of the population each year. In five years' sanitary supervision under Col. Gorgas that death rate has been reduced to but a little higher than the death rate in the United States. This sanitary engineer has demonstrated to the world that it is not climatic conditions, but insect-borne diseases, that the white race has to fear in the tropics.

Dr. L. O. Howard, Entomologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, says: "It is certain that malaria retarded in a marked degree the advance of civilization over the North American continent, and particularly was this the case in the march of the pioneers through the Middle West and throughout the Gulf States west of the Mississippi and beyond." This same authority is of the opinion that malaria has played an important role in the failure of the early Virginia colonies. —Weekly Bulletin, State Board of Health.

TEDDY'S STAR IS WANING

Roosevelt Not the Logical Leader of Progressives in 1912—Observations by Well Known Washington Correspondent.

(By Clyde H. Tavenner.)

Washington, Oct. 15. (Special)—Theodore Roosevelt's star of destiny is falling!

While he was in the South dickering for the support of Republican delegates to the 1912 convention, a vigorous movement was started among the "genuine" progressives of the West and Middle West looking toward the withdrawal of all support from the former President.

Some of the leaders of the Congressional delegation of progressives quietly talked the situation over and decided not to permit Roosevelt to run away with the leadership of the National progressive movement. If necessary, to prevent the ex-President from using the progressive movement for his own personal advancement, these real progressives will publicly repudiate Roosevelt. They will direct public attention to the gross duplicity Roosevelt practiced on the people by proclaiming himself a progressive and then straightaway turning about and allowing the New York State convention—over which he had absolute control—to adopt a platform endorsing the Payne-Aldrich tariff jugglery and the reactionary Taft administration.

The New York platform squarely describes the Payne-Aldrich law as a fulfillment of Republican promises, because it states there was an average reduction of all duties of 11 per cent, which, if true, would constitute revision downward.

This is in contrast to the Wisconsin Republican platform which states unequivocally that "the Payne-Aldrich tariff is not a compliance with the pledge of the Republican party." La Follette, Clapp, Bristow, Cummins and Doliver are on record as saying the Republican promise of downward revision was not carried out. Therefore, if Roosevelt was right, the progressives who declared otherwise are members of the Ananias Club, which they emphatically deny, and which the public does not believe.

The Roosevelt-made platform contains still another paragraph which makes T. R. impossible as leader of the genuine progressives in 1912, to-wit: "We emphatically indorse the progressive and statesmanlike leadership of William Howard Taft."

The genuine progressives "enthusiastically" do not indorse the Taft administration. Progressives like La Follette condemn Taft for having filled his cabinet with representatives of the special interests; for having indorsed Cannon and another Lincoln, Aldrich as the greatest living financier and the tariff law as the best tariff bill ever passed; and last, but not least, for having throughout his administration sought counsel from men like Aldrich, Guggenheim, Stephenson, Dalzell and Fordney, while at the same time refusing to give even respectful notice to the suggestions of progressive Republicans.

Through indorsing the tariff and Taft, Roosevelt has queered himself with the progressives. They will not permit him to enter the 1912 progressive movement, much less to bring in with him Mr. Taft and Elihu Root, the messenger boy of Wall Street.

APPEAL TO U. D. C.

Veterans Ask Daughters to Assist in Monument to Heroines.

Newton, N. C., Sept. 7, 1910.

To the North Carolina Division, U. D. C.

The appeal comes to us from the United Confederate Veterans to aid them in erecting a monument to the women of the Confederacy—a call that should be answered by the hearty co-operation of not only every Chapter, but of every individual daughter in the Old North State.

In aiding in the erection of this monument, we are not erecting a monument to ourselves, for it is a mere handful of the women of the sixties now enlisted under the banner of the U. D. C. It is to the memory of our beloved mothers and grandmothers that this monument is to stand. Great, noble and true as is the life story of the Confederate soldier, it is still with a greater brilliancy that the life of the women of the Confederacy will ever shine forth upon history's page.

Daughters of North Carolina, let us, one and all, rise in our might in answer to this call of the Veterans. Let us second them in their every endeavor. Let us adopt the very good plans which they are suggesting for raising money for this cause, and hasten to do their bidding.

Let each one remember the mother that bore, with patient smiles and uncomplaining lips, the tortures of endless waitings, the denials of all the luxuries to which she was accustomed, aye even food and raiment, to aid and uphold the men at the front. Women who, with brave hearts, bid fathers, brothers, husbands, sweethearts go forth and battle for the right, well knowing that many would never more return.

Take success as your watchword, and work diligently and untiringly for the Monument to the noble Women of the Confederacy.

FANNIE RANSOM WILLIAMS.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs—

TIZ Cured Her Quick.

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

TEACHERS' TRAINING SCHOOL.

Personal and General News Notes From the Campus.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greenville, N. C., Oct. 15.—On the morning of October 5th, the first anniversary of the opening of the school, appropriate exercises were held in the assembly hall. Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, who was influential in establishing the school, spoke on "The Growth of Education in Eastern North Carolina," comparing the schools of Pitt county of ten years ago, with those of today. The "Father of East Carolina Teachers' Training School," ex-Governor T. J. Jarvis, gave a history of the establishment of the school. In little more than two years after the ground was broken, six buildings had been erected and a year's successful work completed.

Miss May Muffly, until recently one of the supervisors of public school music in the Baltimore schools, has accepted the position of director of public school music. She has studied for several years in Peabody conservatory.

Miss Orpah Dabney has arrived to take charge of primary methods. She is a graduate of Columbia University and has had experience in teaching in both rural and city schools. She comes to us from Petersburg, Va.

Miss Elizabeth Pugh, takes Mrs. Ogden's place as teacher of household economics. Miss Pugh is a graduate of Stout Institute, Menomone, Wis., a training school for domestic science and manual training of teachers. She has been teaching in the Louisiana Industrial School, at Ruston, La.

We sincerely regret to lose Mrs. Ogden. Her work has been of a high order. She will return to her home in Delaware.

The Y. W. C. A. opened with bright prospects. Many of the old members are back and are bending every effort to get every new student to join the association. On the evening of Oct. 3rd, an impressive installation service was held. Forty-five new members were installed. Excellent talks were made by President Wright and Mrs. Beckwith. The Y. W. C. A. is doing good work in furthering the social uplift of the school. Two receptions have been given on Saturday evenings.

Morphine Victims

PERHAPS THE MOST HOPELESS MAN IN ALL THE WORLD IS THE MORPHINE FIEND. IT IS GENERALLY UNDERSTOOD THAT HIS CASE IS BEYOND HELP, AND MOST MEN THINK THAT ANY CLAIMS OF MORPHINE CURES ARE NECESSARILY FAKES. WE HAVE, HOWEVER, DEMONSTRATED AT THE BENNETTSVILLE SANITARIUM THAT THERE IS A CURE FOR MORPHINISM AND THAT IT IS ADMINISTERED AT THIS INSTITUTON. THE CURE IS AFFECTED IN ONE WEEK'S TIME, AND ANY CASE, EVEN THE MOST HOPELESS, IS TAKEN WITH A POSITIVE GUARANTEE TO CURE OR REFUND THE FEE CHARGED. OUR MISSION IS TO HELP THE HELPLESS, AND THAT WE ARE DOING IT IS DEMONSTRATED WEEK AFTER WEEK BY THE CURED PATIENTS WE ARE SENDING HOME; MEN AND WOMEN WHO CAME TO US ONE WEEK UTTER WRECKS, PHYSICALLY AND MENTALLY, AND WHO HAVE BEEN RETURNED TO THEIR FRIENDS THE NEXT WEEK RESTORED IN BODY AND MIND AS THEY HAD NEVER HOPED TO BE IN THIS WORLD.

WRITE FOR LITERATURE AND NAMES OF CURED PATIENTS. WE DO NOT ADVERTISE OUR PATIENTS' NAMES, BUT WE CAN WITH THEIR CONSENT GIVE THE NAMES OF SCORES THAT WE HAVE CURED AND WHO ARE NOW HAPPY AND MASTERS OF THEMSELVES.

WE ALSO TREAT ALCOHLOISM AND TOBACCO HABITS AND SELL THE HOME TREATMENT FOR TOBACCO HABIT.
